Epilogue 183

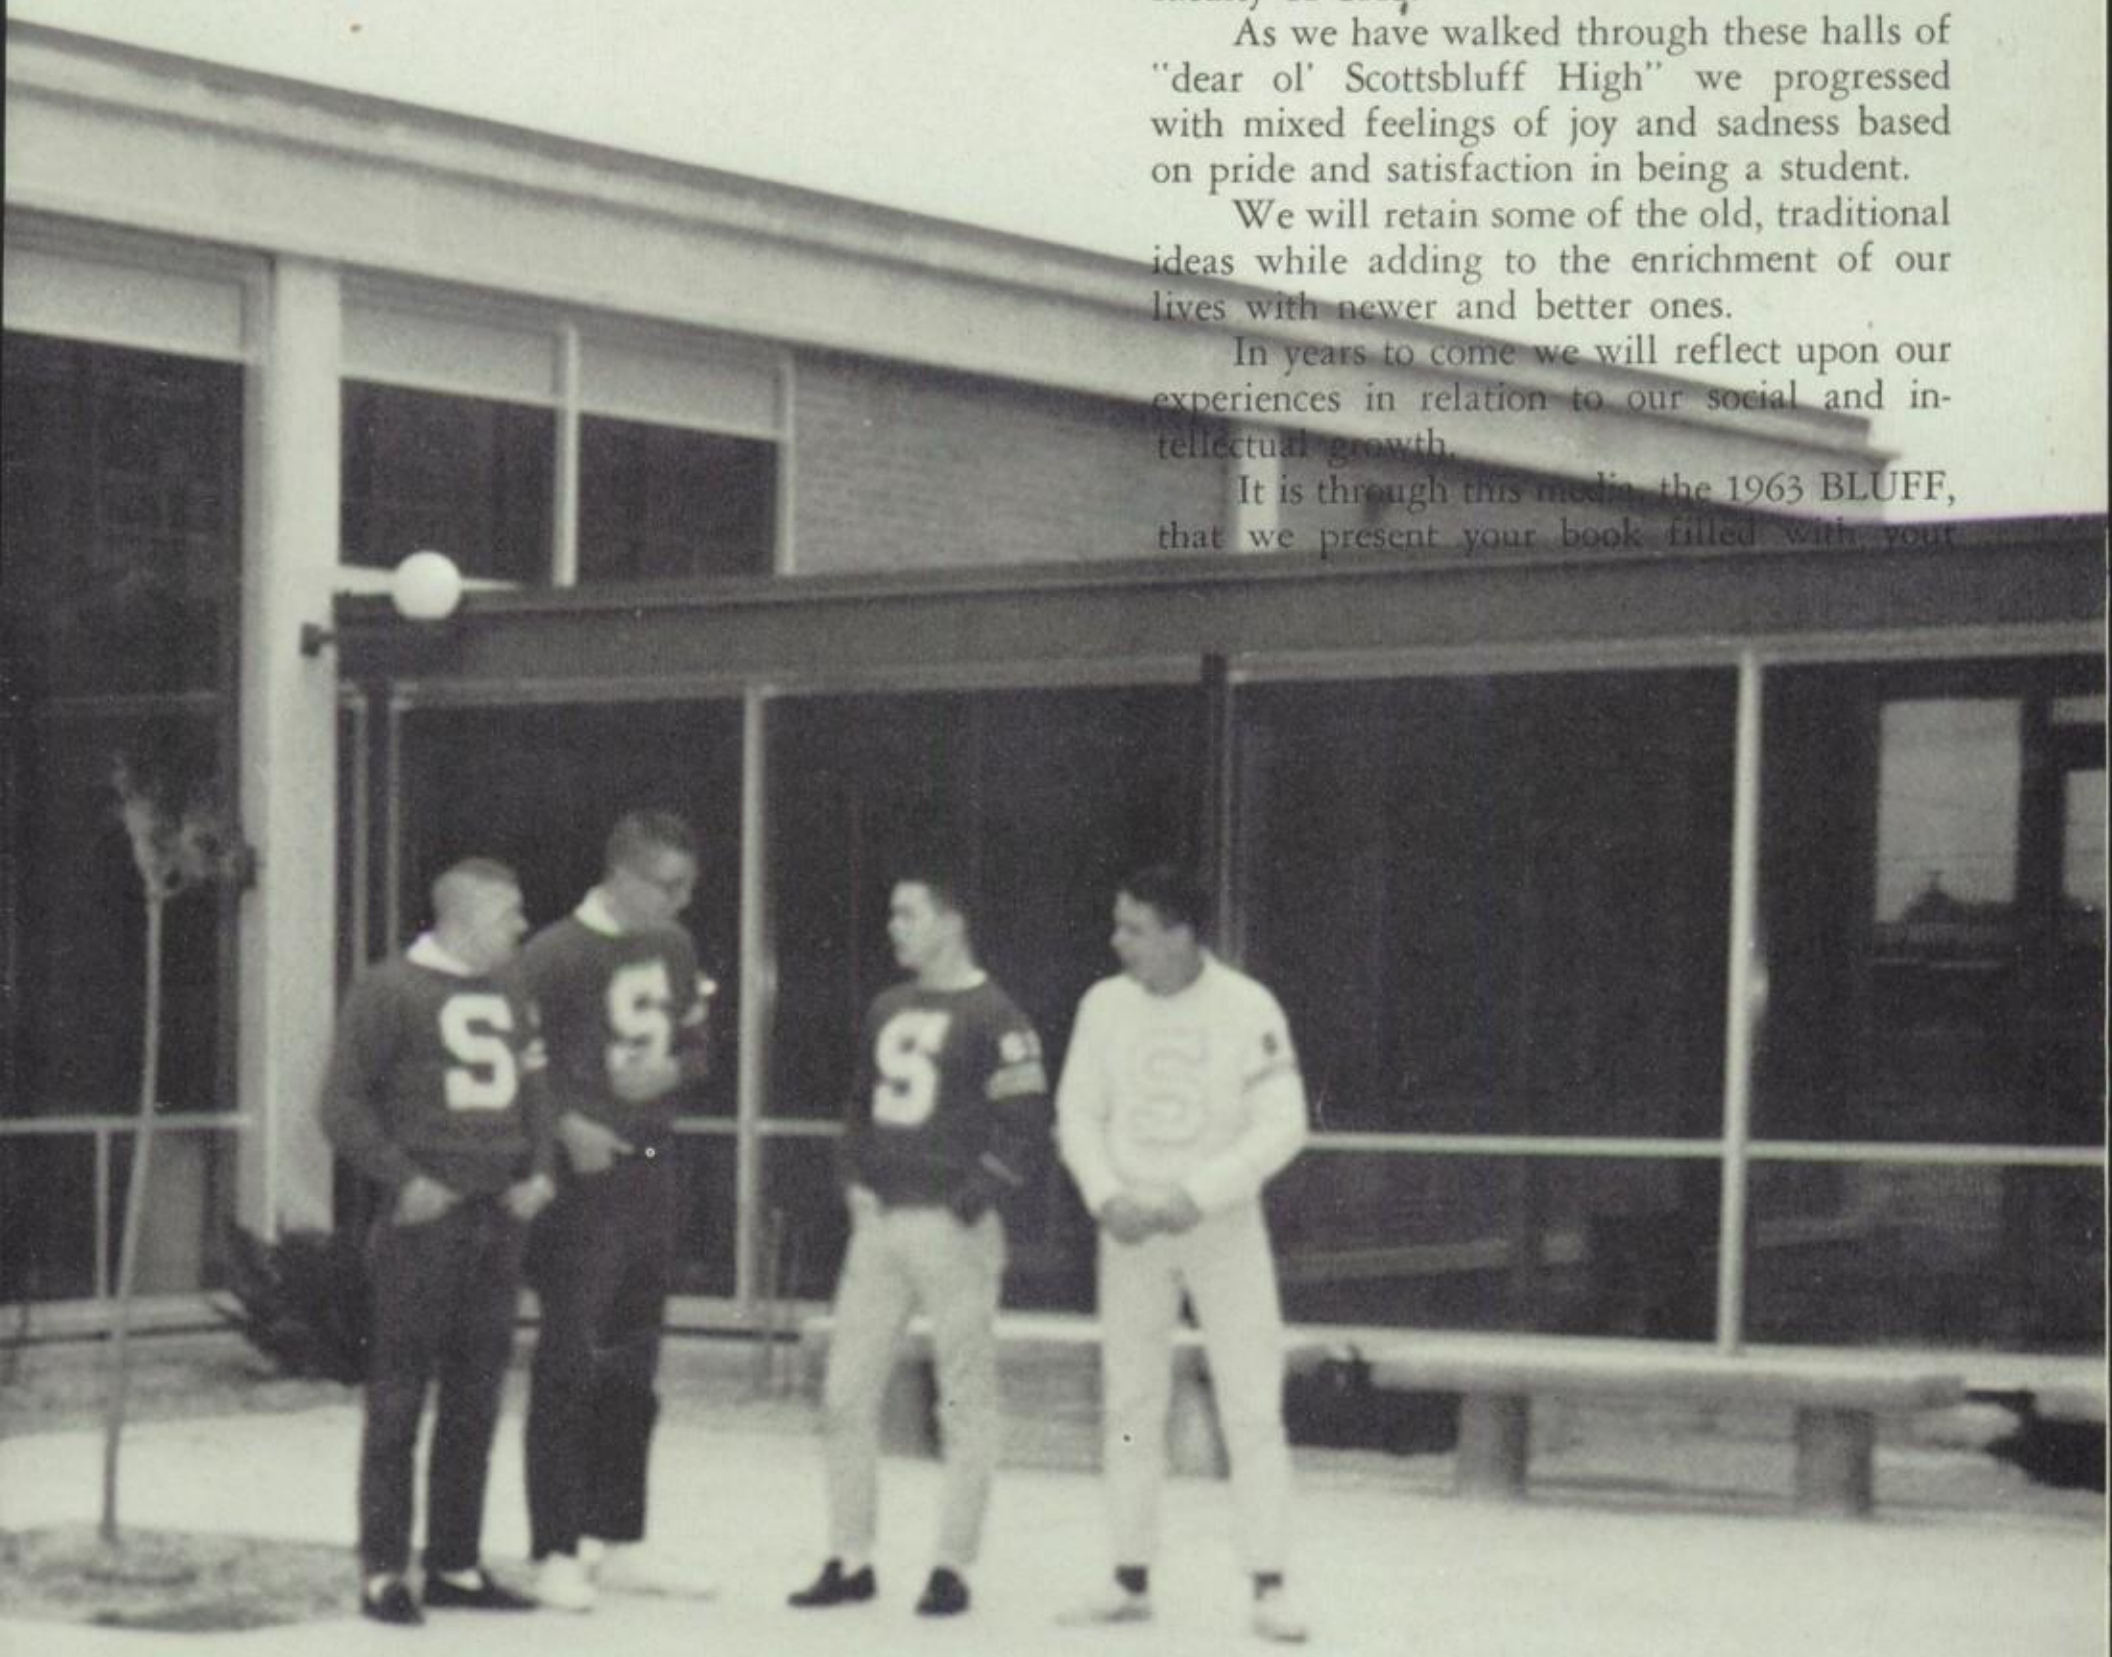
We have moved into this new building in its entirety. With the passage of time an everlasting spirit will be built by the students and faculty of SHS.

As we have walked through these halls of "dear ol' Scottsbluff High" we progressed with mixed feelings of joy and sadness based on pride and satisfaction in being a student.

We will retain some of the old, traditional ideas while adding to the enrichment of our lives with newer and better ones.

In years to come we will reflect upon our experiences in relation to our social and intellectual growth.

It is through this media, the 1963 BLUFF, that we present your book filled with your



"MOMENTS TO REMEMBER."

As a means of transportation to school, students can be found driving their cars, walking or riding the bus. Entering the south entrance of the high school are the bus students carrying a pile of books, ready to begin another day of school.

Crowded Halls, Buses Unloading; School Formalities Set

"Chow Time!" On their way to lunch students drop their books on the floor or put them in the "pigeon holes" not wanting to take time out to go to their lockers.

Food for the stomach is just as necessary as food for thought and maybe even more so. The cafeteria serves in this capacity to satisfy the needs of the student. Dorothy Guettler, having finished part of her meal, decides to sample some of Connie Rystrom's.

If A Student Is Absent from school for illness or other reasons, a readmittance slip must be obtained from the office before he can be readmitted. There are separate counselors for each grade level to which the students can go. Merri Ellen Seiffert is getting her slip signed by sophomore counselor Mrs. Stephens.

Stage for Each Day of School

Here at Scottsbluff Senior High, we experience three of the most momentous years of our lives. They are the ones that prepare us for the future both socially and intellectually.

We learn to know ourselves and our ability through working with others.

After gathering in the Commons each morning of the school week, we proceed to our classes. We have our favorite teachers, each with his own special qualifications. We have our favorite classroom subjects, those which we excel in the most. It is the responding to these stimuli that makes an educational process fun.

We are tested at regular intervals to see if we are meeting the necessary requirements. Each of us has a duty to perform and it is up to us to see that it is done. Such are the mechanics of learning.

Through this learning process we are molded into a well-rounded citizen of tomorrow. We will use these techniques in our daily lives to make us a better individual in our community.

Crowded Hallways, friendly chats at lockers and only five minutes to get to the next class, these experiences are confronted by every SHS'er as he walks down the halls during one school day.

So This Is Where That voice is coming from every morning at 8:30. Mr. Harris reads the daily bulletin to the student body over the P.A., giving them special information concerning meetings and coming events. These announcements have to be turned into the office before 4:00 p.m. on the previous day.

Scottsbluff Cheerleader, Babs Numon, gives some advice to Mascot Billy Heller at a football game.

Paul Asmus And Mary Kay Kirschman, Banner Day Royalty, help Pat Daniels and John Roberts take down the A Cappella float on Saturday morning following Banner Day.

Extra-Curricular Activities Add Excitement to School Life.

Building Bearcat Spirit for the Banner Day tipoff with Kearney, a bonfire was staged Thursday evening on October 18. A Kearney Bearcat was burned at the stake in effigy symbolizing a Scottsbluff victory.

After 3 o'clock books are put into an already-crammed locker signifying the end of the school day. Much joking and laughing can be heard as the students of SHS share with each other their everyday experiences.

Now comes the time for meetings, practices, and projects that go to make up the activities of the after-class hours. It is here that we can serve in every capacity to better ourselves, our school, and our community.

Through our efforts of teamwork, we can accomplish great thing as well as have fun.

Skittens President Marianne Smith is giving suggestions to the girls in Skittens on how to perform better at the pep rallies and games. Every other Thursday the Skittens have a meeting to practice their yells with the cheerleaders.

Mr. Thomas Mihane Completes First Year As SHS Principal.

Mr. Thomas Mihane, on completion of his first term as principal of Scottsbluff Senior High School, has won the respect and affection of the entire student body.

His humor and understanding, and his complete interest in every phase of school activity, from scholarship to sports, student government to social activity, publications to school participation, all of these equal the sum of outstanding school spirit and school achievement.

This year Mr. Mihane has, though not realizing it, taught us a famous saying from Plato, "Take charge of your life and you can do with it what you will."

Therefore, through the 1963 BLUFF, the student body of Scottsbluff Senior High wishes to express its appreciation and gratitude to:

Mr. Thomas R. Mihane,
Principal

Because he encourages quality and improvement, Mr. Mihane has obtained the respect and admiration of the faculty and students. His vital interest in the school has built and maintained the spirit of Scottsbluff High.

It's state tournament time in Scottsbluff! Mr. Mihane gets ready to sign Susan Campbell's prearranged absence slip. Each morning he was mobbed by students wanting their slips signed.

Presenting deserved awards makes Mr. Mihane happy. At the FFA banquet he presents Randy Brown the Star Chapter Farmer Award. Also, the club named Mr. Mihane as an honorary chapter farmer member.

Academics

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America." These words echo through the rooms of SHS as students gather in their first period classes.

As the day gets underway, students attend many classes in which they do a variety of exercises. As you walk down the hall, you hear the hum of the sewing machines, students discussing a chemistry problem and math students puzzling over an equation.

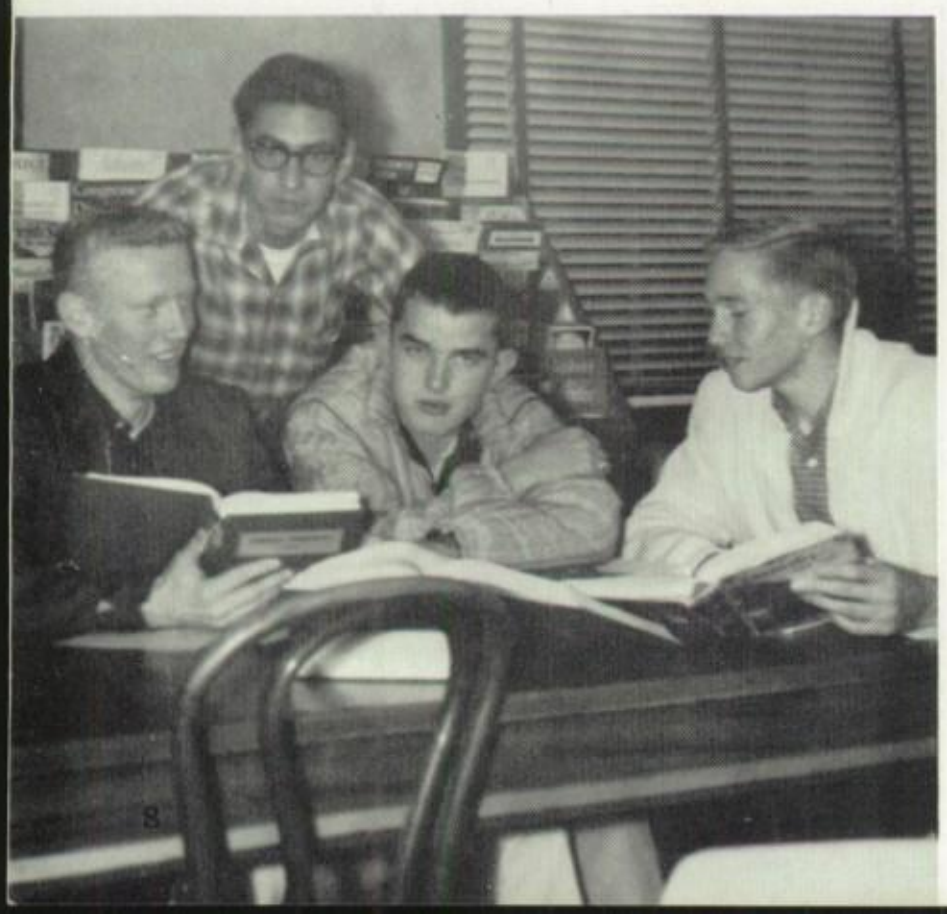
Noisy halls, the cafeteria, the blaring stereo; they will have these Moments To Remember.

We Will Employ the Knowledge Gained From These

There Are Four Different types of speeches, extemporaneous, memorization, reading from a manuscript and impromptu. Jim Munz prepares to give his speech.

As An Added Attraction for the German classes, Mrs. Hayen orders tapes directly from Germany. Mr. Merril records spectacular, every-day experiences that happen in Deutschland and relays them to students such as Jeannie White and Andy Kleager to promote better understanding between the two countries.

On Saturday And After school, high school students can be found looking for research material or getting a magazine at the public library. Jim Burbach, Dale Foley, Joe Pesez and Jack Gross compare their assignments for the week-end.



While Mr. Minteer Is lecturing about the different facets of journalism, Sandy Acton, Kathryn Harper, Susan Barker and Georgia Hiner take notes in their notebook which has to be kept up to date. Several teachers use this method of helping the student retain the important facts.

Classroom Activities for Broadening Our Perspective.

Allen Scoggan And Galen Seip, along with their physics laboratory partners, Marianne Smith and Allen Russell, are trying to determine the mass density of a piece of coal. They will then record their findings in their lab books and answer the questions.

Students have the choice of a college preparatory course of study or one of several general courses. The general courses include secretarial, industrial arts, homemaking, vocational agriculture and retail selling.

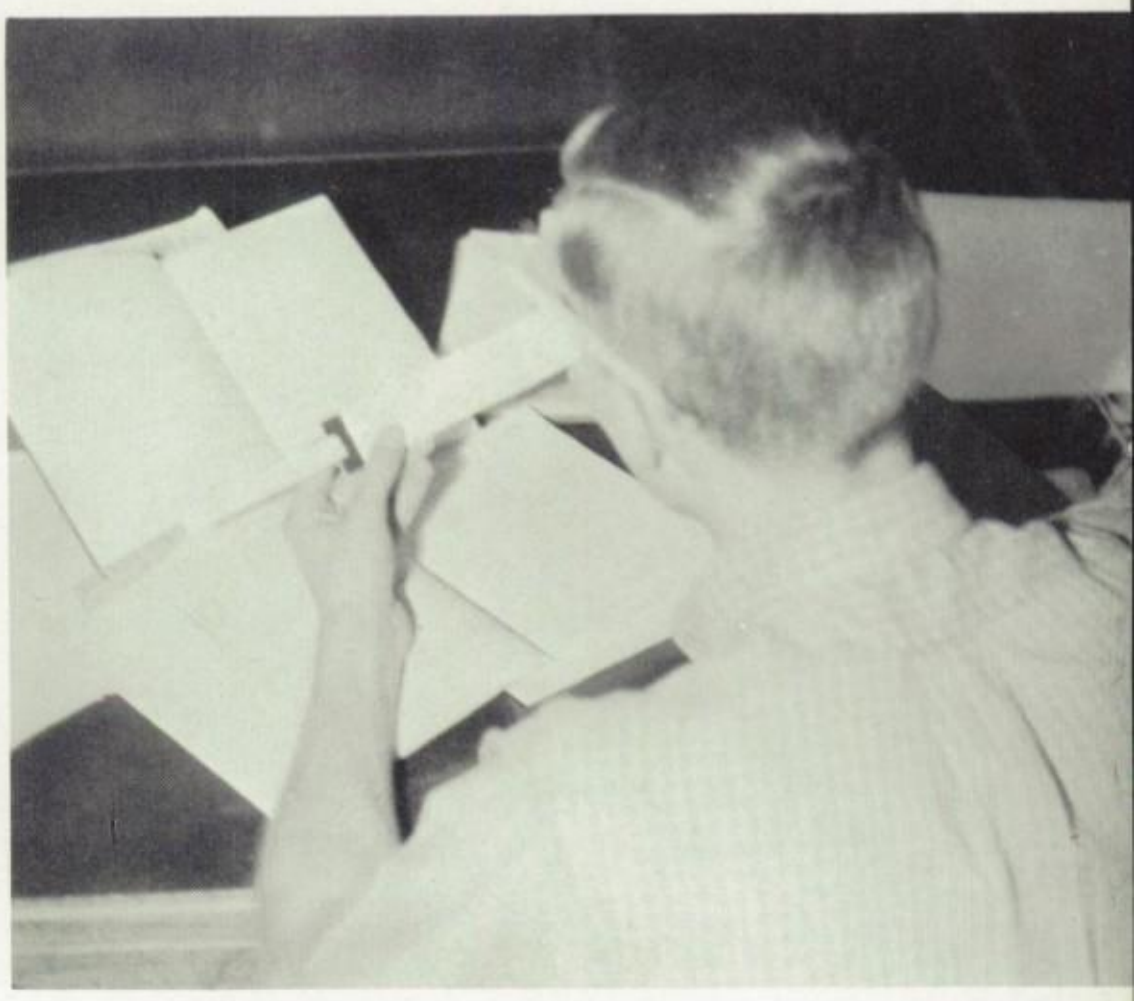
Those that plan to attend college are greatly aided by the guidance department in the selection of their college preparatory courses, their future professions, the right college to attend or receiving college entrance services.

For those that are taking the general course aid is given them by helping them find a part-time job while gaining in business experience. Modern machines and techniques are introduced as they branch their talent towards the future.

Through the efforts of the faculty and guidance department, experienced students are prepared to seek success in the future.

Class Participation is stressed in Mrs. Olsson's English classes. Students experience this as they are asked to voice their viewpoints concerning an author's work.

One Of The Great Aids to the math student is the slide rule. It is a mechanical device that comes in handy for figuring long multiplication and division problems and can also be used to find the square root of a number.



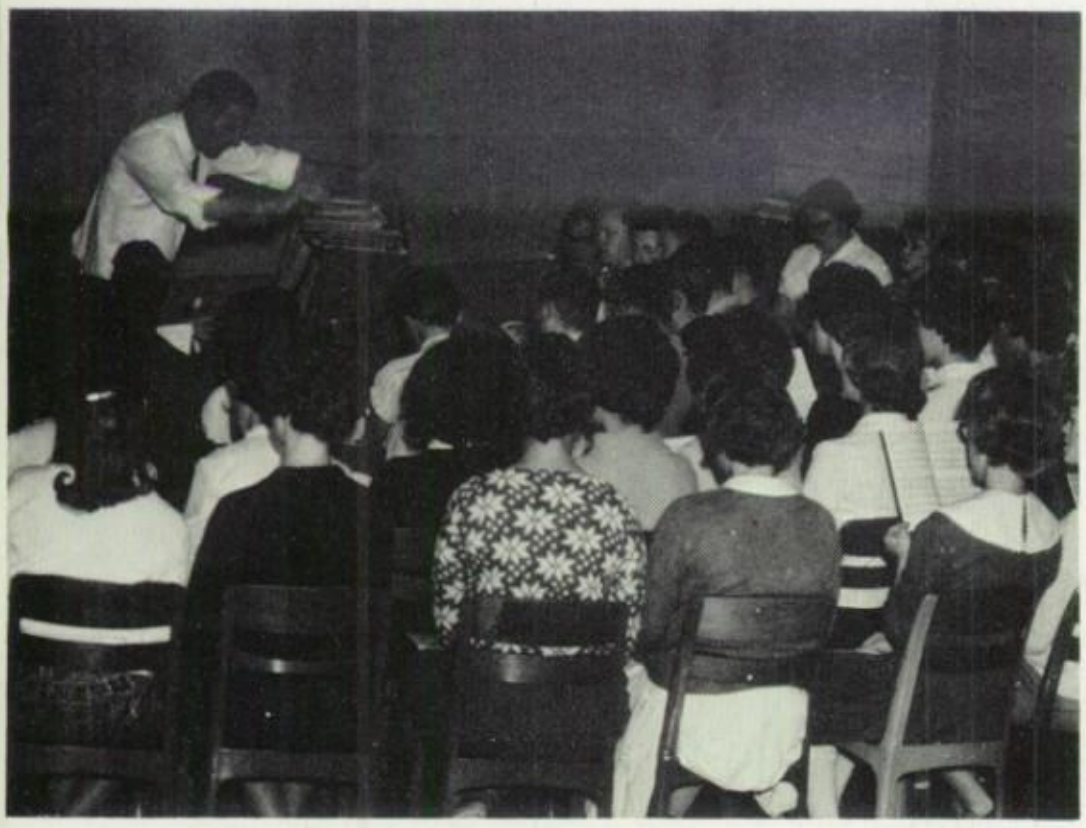
Through Steps of Learning,

Making Mistakes , Taking Tests,

The Ability To Type allows the student to impress the teacher by presenting his homework in a neater form. Barbara Zolman realizes this and improves her style.

On Saturday, October 20, those juniors and seniors who were interested took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Seniors Bryan Boulier and Robert Koller are deep in thought as they ponder the test questions consisting of two parts, English and math.

Mr. Becker, The Band director, holds an after-school practice with his student Connie Kumelos. This enables her to work out the small details in the course of improvement.

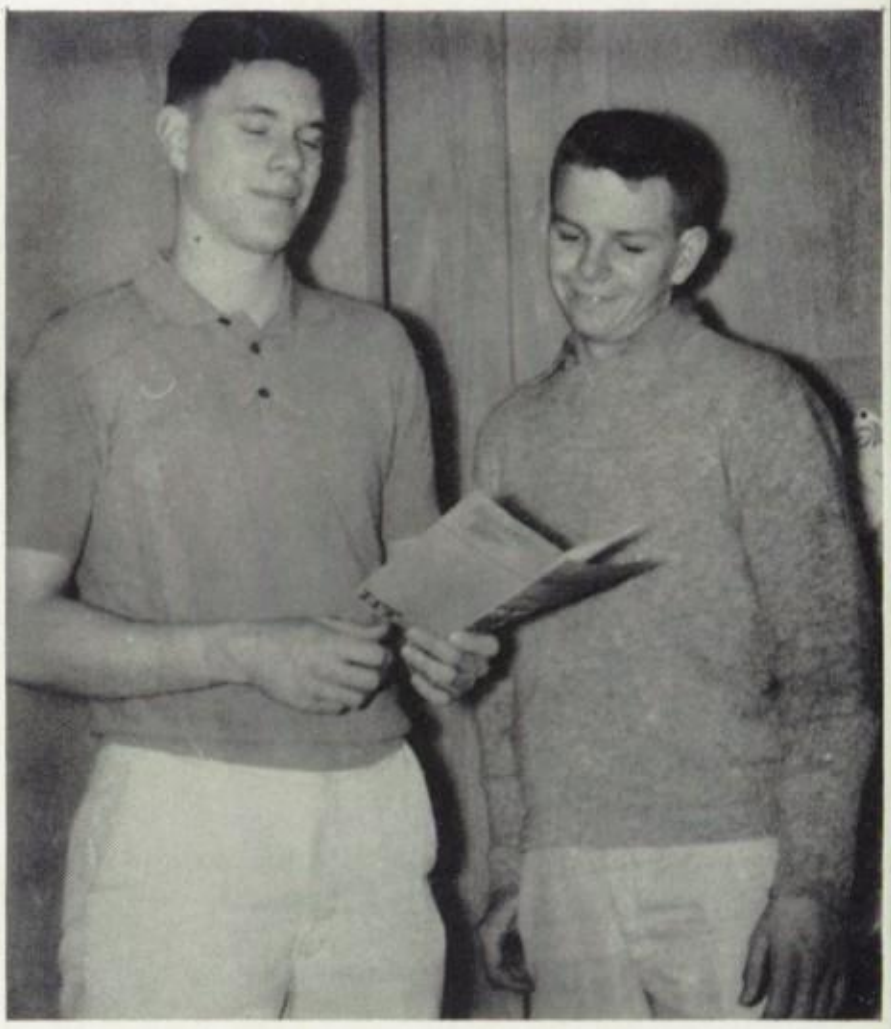


Mr. Ehly, The Vocal instructor, directs his sophomore choir and helps them produce a top-quality song with all the fundamental expressions needed to enliven the listener.

Experimenting We Have Progressed

To Make '62-'63 A Memory to Reflect Upon.

Using His T-Square Joe Perez works intently on his drawing. The hours spent here give preparation for a career in engineering and architecture.



To The University Of Nebraska the Regents Board awarded four-year scholarships to the top 100 scorers on the Regents Test. Scottsbluff had two in this category, Doug Sorensen and Bryan Boulier plus 22 alternates.

Joy Hise Checks Her figures against those of the adding machine. The qualities of good accounting are practiced in bookkeeping with actual business formats as teaching guides.

In Social Problems each student has a project and corresponding with his project are films or speakers which the student has to acquire. Linda Bakken introduces Rev. Ward Conklin to the class.

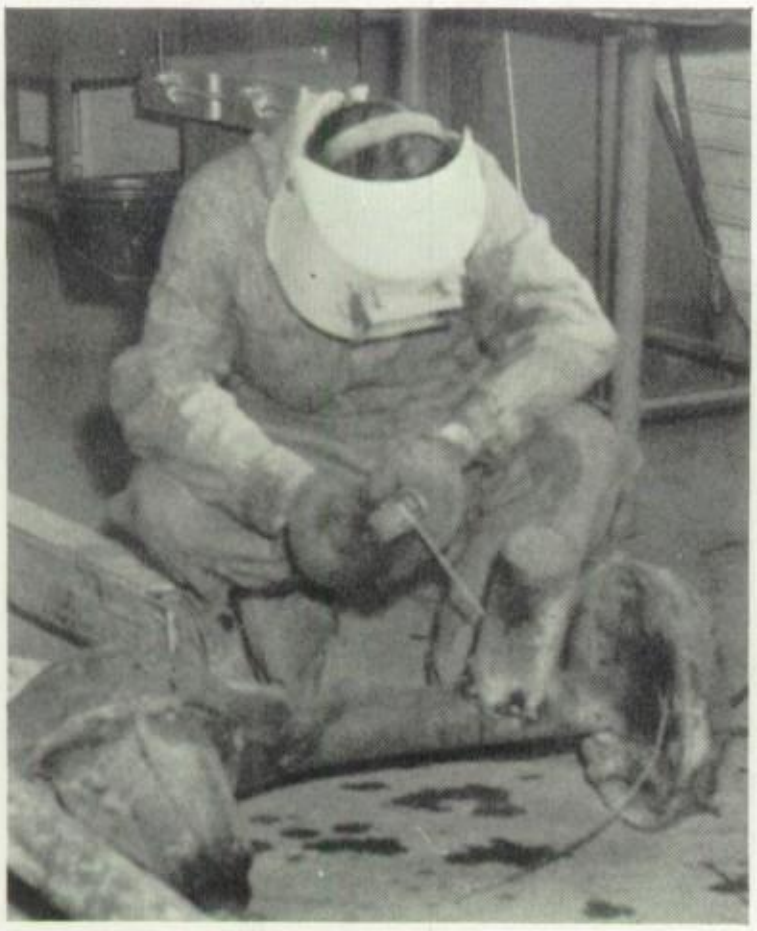
Dan Murphy And Alan Meier are shaping metal into various forms as they work in their general metals class.

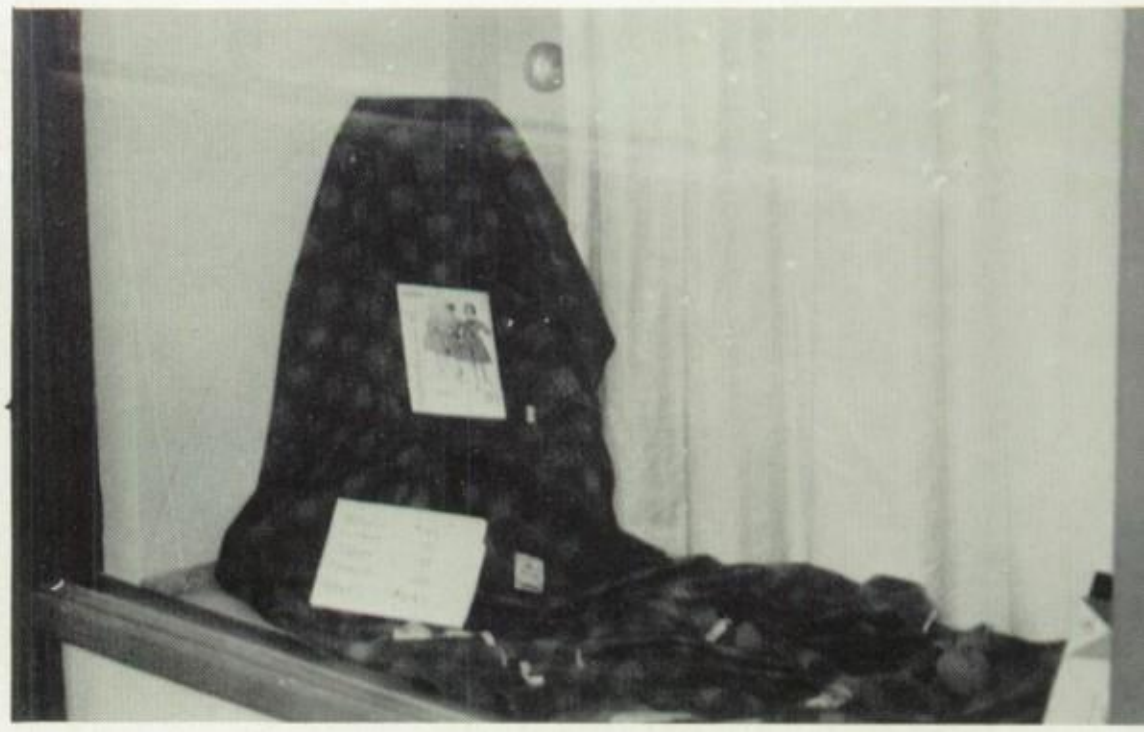
Vocational Agriculture offers opportunities for advancing new scientific ideas in the field of agriculture. Max Schumacher, Steve Green and Steve Kaufman study soil and seed samples used for the betterment of crops.

From These Classrooms Emerge

The general courses are subdivided in regard to their emphasis. Industrial arts requires a maximum of three years for woodworking and two years in mechanical drawing. Vocational agriculture is open preferably to those students who live on a farm. This is due to the year-round project to be carried on on the farm. Homemaking and the secretarial courses are open to any student though the advanced course of study requires special permission from the head teacher in charge.

Welding Binds Two pieces of metal together by applying heat at the point of contact. Strength and durability are this welder's goals as he works on his project.





Outside The Homemaking room is a display window showing some of the different projects that the homemakers undertake. Displayed are the basic necessities and sewing utensils used to put together a splendid garment for a minimum cost.

Future Secretaries-to-be, Sharon Hardin, Norma Rose and Mary Lou Kloch are running off some stencils on the mimeographing machine.

The Leaders of Tomorrow.

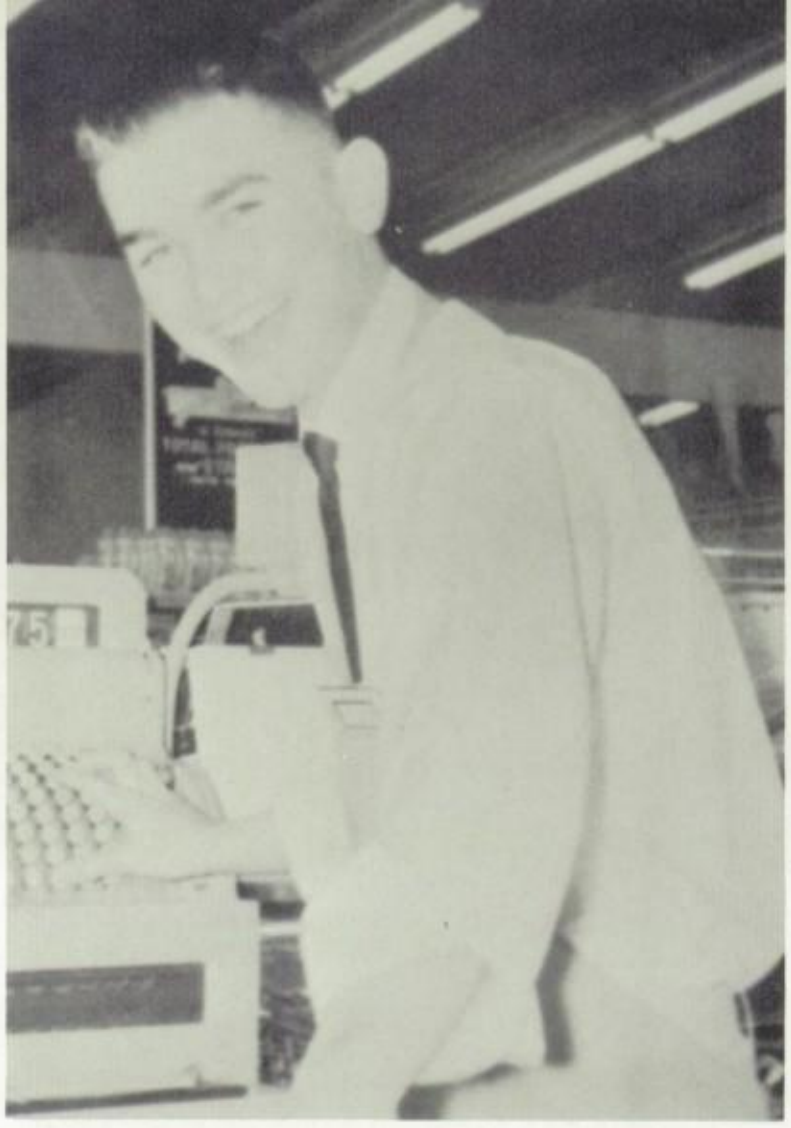
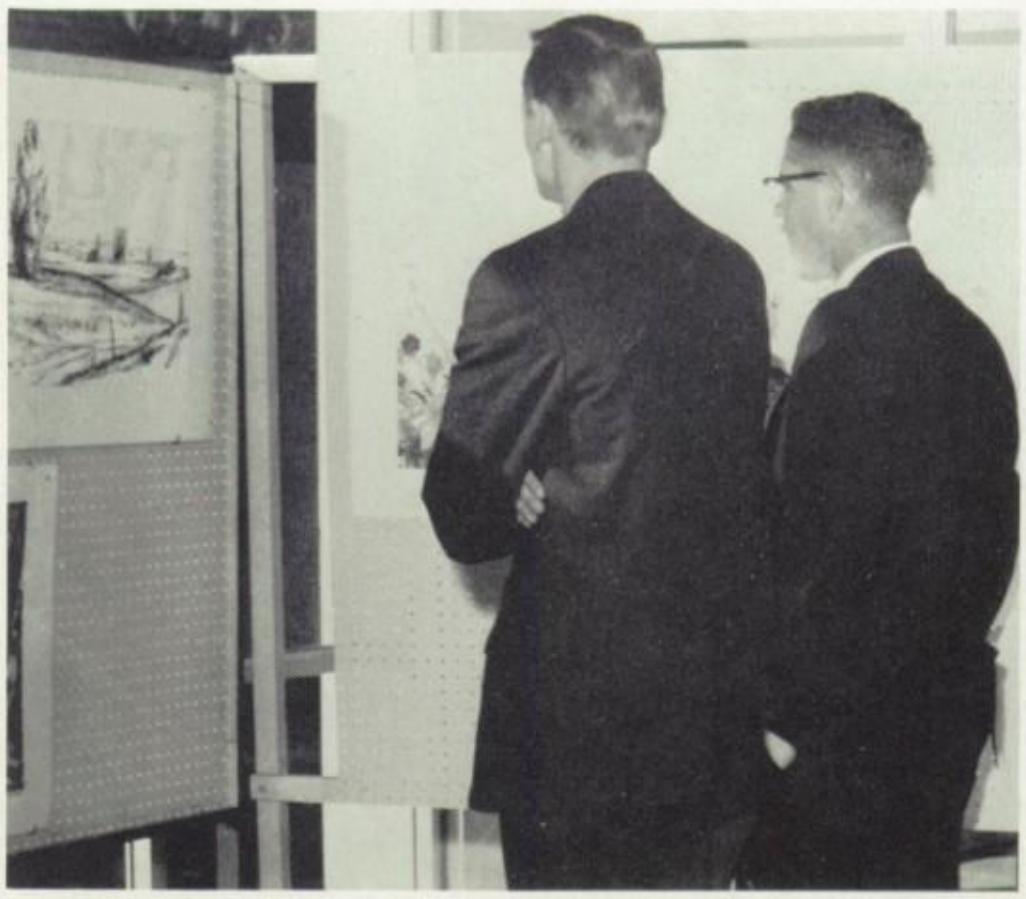
Teaching On The High school level is rather difficult, but it is even more so as Mr. Charles Tate, a student from Chadron State Teachers College, learns as he student-teaches in Mr. Davis's American history classes.



Part-Time Jobs Provide extra-pocket money for teenagers. Experience is gained through responsibility. These jobs are fun as Dale Foley shows as he is checking groceries.



During The District Teacher's Convention, October 25 and 26, the art department set up an exhibit in the Commons composed of the art that had been sent to the Scottsbluff County Fair. Onlookers study the artist's meaning.

HOW SOCIAL SECURITY WORKS

Faculty

The job of molding the minds and guiding the thoughts of young people is an enormous responsibility. To the faculty of SHS this task is channeled as they strive to do better.

It is said that the students of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. Never forget that the faculty prepares and molds this future leadership.

A teacher's material reward is relatively limited in value, but in intangible reward the boundaries are infinite. With the success of one of their many students: they will always have these Moments To Remember.

Superintendent and School Board Direct S.H.S. Policies.

Dr. Lauren Schwisow along with the school board members serve as leaders for the Scottsbluff School System.

They are the ones that make the decisions concerning policy, contracts, school property, students and purchasing supplies.

Every first Monday of the month people can find them meeting to discuss various problems that are accumulated despite much planning.

In March suggestions are submitted for the forthcoming budget and it is then prepared for the Board so they can approve it in their June meeting.

Their first goal for the building program has been reached with the completion of the new senior high school and grade school. Plans for the construction of a new junior college are now under way.

Dr. Lauren Schwisow, Superintendent of Scottsbluff schools for the past five years, pauses from his busy schedule for the photographer. Dr. Schwisow's responsibilities are many and require much consideration. His interests include increasing benefits for all students. He is also President of the Scottsbluff Junior College.

Present the Voice of the Student Body in School Affairs.

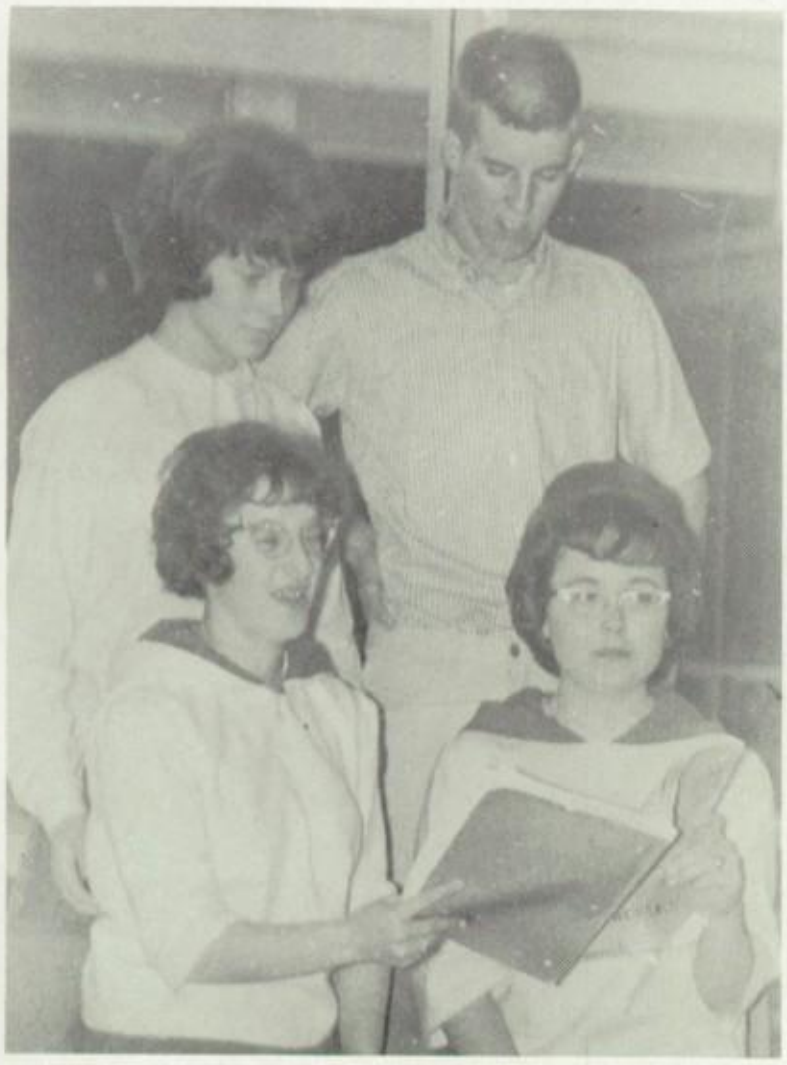
Early in the 1948 school year a student council steering group was organized. This group, consisting of the presidents of all classes and organizations, spent the year planning a constitution. At the beginning of school in the fall of 1949, Student Council began its work.

Student participation in certain phases of school-planning has proved advantageous to the administration, faculty and student body.

Pete Hamon and Bryan Boulier attended the State Student Council Leadership Workshop in Lincoln in the fall of 1962.

This summer Student Council President Doug Sorensen attended the National Student Council Convention in San Gabriel, California. He attended sessions in which the organizing and improving of student councils was discussed.

Student Council Sponsors for the 1962-63 school year were — Front: Mrs. Bowden; Mrs. Muehlberger, head sponsor; Mr. Mihane, advisor. Back: Mr. Knepper, Mr. Veal, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Alvarez. They were an invaluable aid to Student Council.



Mary Linda Slie. Judi Peterson, Susan Campbell and Ray Otte were selected as semi-finalists for the American Field Service foreign exchange student program for 1963.

Student Council Again sponsored the annual Faculty-AFS tea. The purpose of the event is to introduce the foreign exchange students to the faculty. This year's four semi-finalists were announced and introduced at the tea.

1962 Bearcat Banner Day is First in New High School

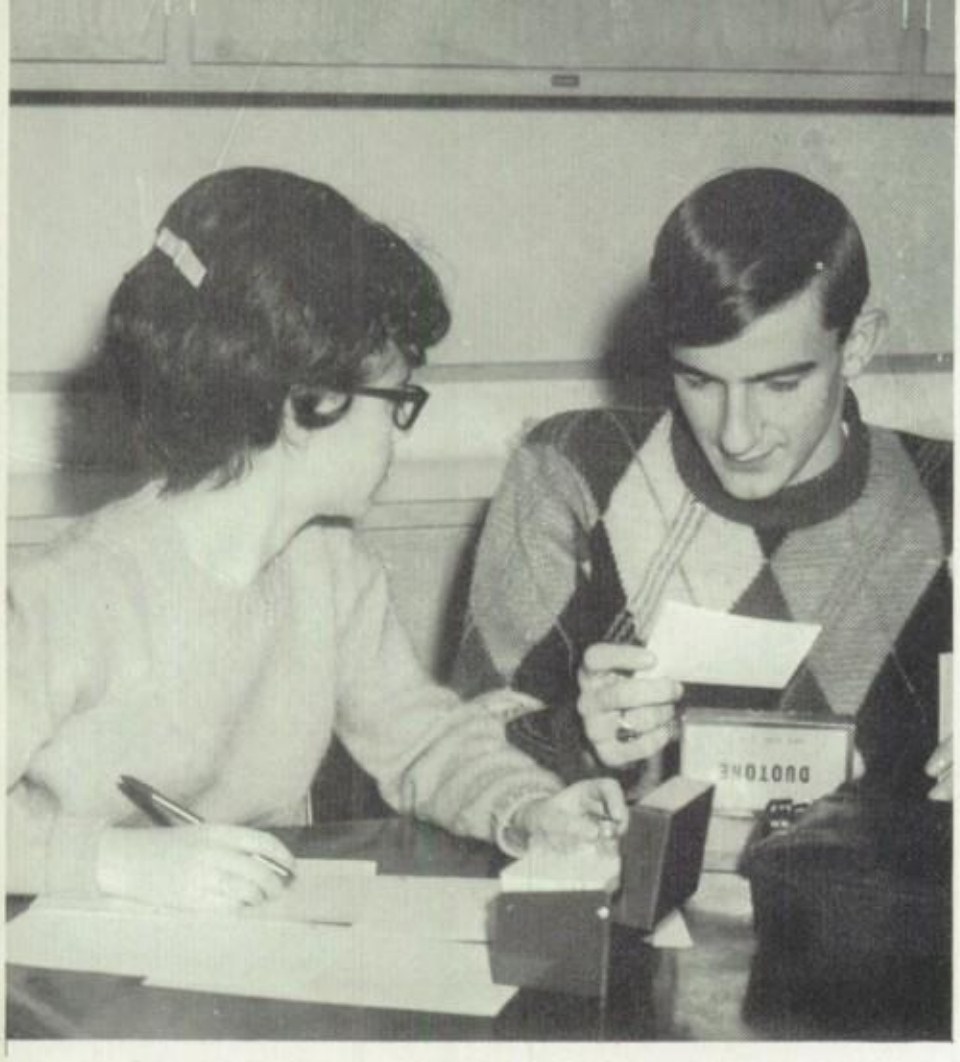
This Is Certainly One of the advantages of being Banner Day Royalty. King Paul Asmus gives Queen Mary Kay Kirschman the traditional kiss at the tapping assembly.

In Spite Of The Cold weather that accompanied the Banner Day festivities, Queen Mary Kay and King Paul smile happily from their throne on the Royalty float as they wait to move into their place in the annual Bearcat Banner Day Parade.

In 1955 "Homecoming" was changed to Bearcat Banner Day. The Activities Committee of Student Council decided upon this change because the activities included in the college homecomings were not the same as our high school Homecoming.

Always a highlight of the year, Banner Day 1962 was inaugurated with a huge bonfire the night before the Big Game. Books and assignments were momentarily put aside as floats took priority over everything else. Tension filled the auditorium as the first tapping ceremony in the new school began. Junior tappers revealed the royalty by candlelight as A Cappella choir sang "Sweetheart of Scottsbluff High."

Banner Day 1962 Was a very successful one for the Band. Both the King and Queen were band members and the band float, "The Spirit of '62," was awarded first place.



Art And Advertising Editor Anita Dougherty and Photo Editor Vern Kramer recheck the 1963 BLUFF advertising contracts.

Yearbook Photographers must devote much after-school time in order to enable section editors to meet their deadlines. Jack Thorpe and Jim Loos spent many hours processing pictures.

Nancy Hall's Job As circulation manager included all publicity during the sales campaign. Bonni Cheairs, faculty and fine arts editor, and Jim Burbach, sports editor, help her put up posters in the Commons.

1963 Bluff Staff

Although at times the endless work and constant pressure of deadlines seemed almost too much, the 1963 BLUFF staff worked on toward the realization of their goal. This goal was to present to the students of SHS a pictorial record of the 1962-63 school year; the first complete school year in the new high school building.

A willingness to work combined with cooperation and self-sacrifice make the publication of a yearbook possible. Drawing triplicates, writing cutlines, typing copy and scheduling pictures all go into the final preparation.

This year Lana Walker, Anita Dougherty, Vern Kramer, Jim Loos and Sandee Britthouer represented the BLUFF staff at the State Journalism Clinic in Lincoln. Lana, Vern and Jim also attended the All-State Journalism Workshop which was held June 12 through June 30 in the Capital City.

Planning Layouts For one of the royalty pages are organizations editor Sharon Behling and activities editor Marsha McCutchan. Each staff member made layouts, wrote copy and assigned pictures for his section.

One Of The Main responsibilities of Bluff editor Lana Walker and copy editor Sandee Britthouer was the preparation of the stylebook. This manual was a technical guide for each staff member.

Underclass Editors must check the names of all students to assure proper spelling. Pam Hoffman, Junior Class editor; Charlotte Carter, Sophomore Class editor; and Jean Skorupa, Senior Class editor; diligently tackle the job of checking over 775 attendance records.

Through His Leadership, Mr. Bruce Minteer, Bluff adviser, instills in each staff member a sense of responsibility and pride.

Checking Figures On advertisements with Mrs. Forbes are JoAnn Fegler, business manager, and Beverly Gerlock, advertising manager. JoAnn is in charge of all finances of the ECHOES and BLUFF departments.

In Charge Of The News bureau for the ECHOES staff are Merri Ellen Seiffert and Lynn Conklin. They are discussing a radio broadcast with Bob Koller who is a member of Radio Production.

Echoes Staff Launches the Second Year of Laboratory

Newspaper Writing Is on the whole individually done, but when the paper rolls off the press all staff members work together to distribute the paper to the students of SHS. This year's staff consists of: Managing Editor, Carolyn Shaver; Copy Editor, Lois Quinnett; News, Beverly Lacey; Editorial, Judi Peterson; Feature, Jeanette Schuman; Sports, Vicki Ruplinger; News Bureau, Lynn Conklin and Merri Seiffert; Business, JoAnn Fegler; Advertising, Bev Gerlock, Suzanne Schmidt, and Jan Stricker; Photographer, Rog Frank.

Carolyn Shaver, Lois Quinnett and Suzanne Schmidt check a page before lock-up with Mr. Wayne Clark. Mr. Clark is the compositor for the ECHOES and always willing to lend assistance to the staff.

Newspaper Production Experiment

Launching their second year in an experimental lab newspaper has been a challenge to the staff members. In this experiment a different style of headline and layout is used each week. This gives the students an opportunity to study a variety of techniques in newspaper work.

Ending its first year, the newly organized news bureau wrote articles for the Star-Herald and both radio and television stations. Featured was news drawing interest to the school.

At the 1962 Nebraska High School Press Association state meeting, the ECHOES received the Gamma Alpha Chi award for its promotional coverage of the new high school building.

At the same conference, ECHOES staff members distinguished themselves in competitive contests covering knowledge of journalism. Lois Quinnett received an excellent in news copy reading and editing; Carolyn Shaver, excellent in journalistic terms; and Judi Peterson, superior in newswriting. Judi ranked first of 11 students taking the newswriting examination.

Mr. Bailey Who Is The shop foreman for the Star-Herald shows Bev Lacey, Judi Peterson and Jan Stricker the printing press on which the ECHOES is printed.

Mr. Gary Keast

Father Moynihan And his conniving housekeeper, Mrs. Deazy, give Michael and Jenny a few pointers while they are engaged in a chess game.

Mari Colling As Jenny confesses her love to Curt Graf who portrays the character of Michael Saunders, an educator who is studying at the rectory of Father Moynihan.

Portraying the role of a naive country girl, Jenny is subjected to a world of "hep" teenagers when she visits her aunt, the housekeeper at St. Matthew's Girls School. Jenny who is an intelligent and sensible girl causes quite an uproar at the Catholic establishment.

Father Moynihan, the head of the school, at first encourages Jenny to stay sweet and simple. After he decides that she is not being noticed by young boys, he changes his mind and tries to create a new Jenny with new clothes and makeup.

Changing Jenny, or at least attempting to, provided a comical sketch that delighted the audience attending the performance.

Chosen as the all-school play, "Jenny Kissed Me" provided various parts for many students. Some rather minor roles added a touch of humor and drama to the three-act production.

Student Director For the play "My Hero" is junior Jim Fullen. Included in the cast of characters are Sandi Schnoor, Vivi Saunders, Gary Rose, Lowell Brehmer, Kathy Settles and Mary Ann Stedille.

Portraying The characters in the production of "The Opening of the Door" are Toni Vernon, Sue Arterburn, Betsy Fennimore, Judy Weddell, Ron Muhlbradt and Grady Waugh. Bill Solson is directing the play.

Novice Dramatists Perform in Plays.

Novice theater provides inexperienced students with an opportunity to display their talents in the art of dramatics. The theater originated last year and is directed by active Thespian members. It has served jointly by giving the Thespians dramatical experience directing and by giving the students outside of the dramatics department equal opportunity to develop their dramatic abilities.

Trophies are awarded to the director producing the best play and to the actor and actress displaying the most dramatic abilities. Three judges determine who will receive honors. Their decisions are based upon acting perfection and continuity.

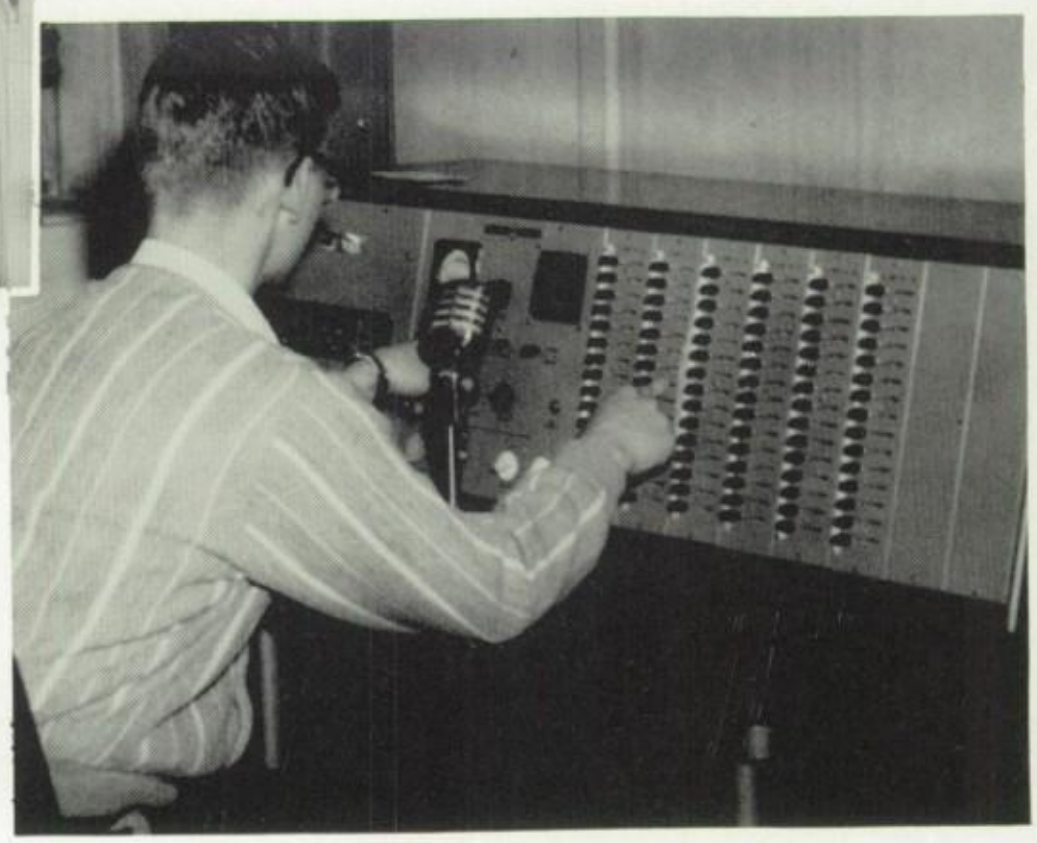
Presiding As The student director for the dramatical presentation of "Fifteen Candles" is Curtis Graf. The members of the acting troupe are John Schmidt, Mary Ann Ruff, Paula Heinke, Rory Myers and Martha Rogers.

Radio - TV Production Carries School News to Community.

John Fryar, General director of the KNEB Radio Production staff, gives news announcer May Robinson a few pointers on broadcasting techniques.

To Give The Faculty and students news of current attractions, Radio Production has many interviews. Talking to Lana Walker and Mrs. Bowden about the talent show is Kathy Anstine.

Radio Production spins the current hits weekly on their program. Dorothy Guettler hands Bob Forrest a new record as they await their signal on the show.



Bob Koller, One Of the technical engineers for the radio staff, gives last minute instructions to fellow crewman before the show goes over the air.

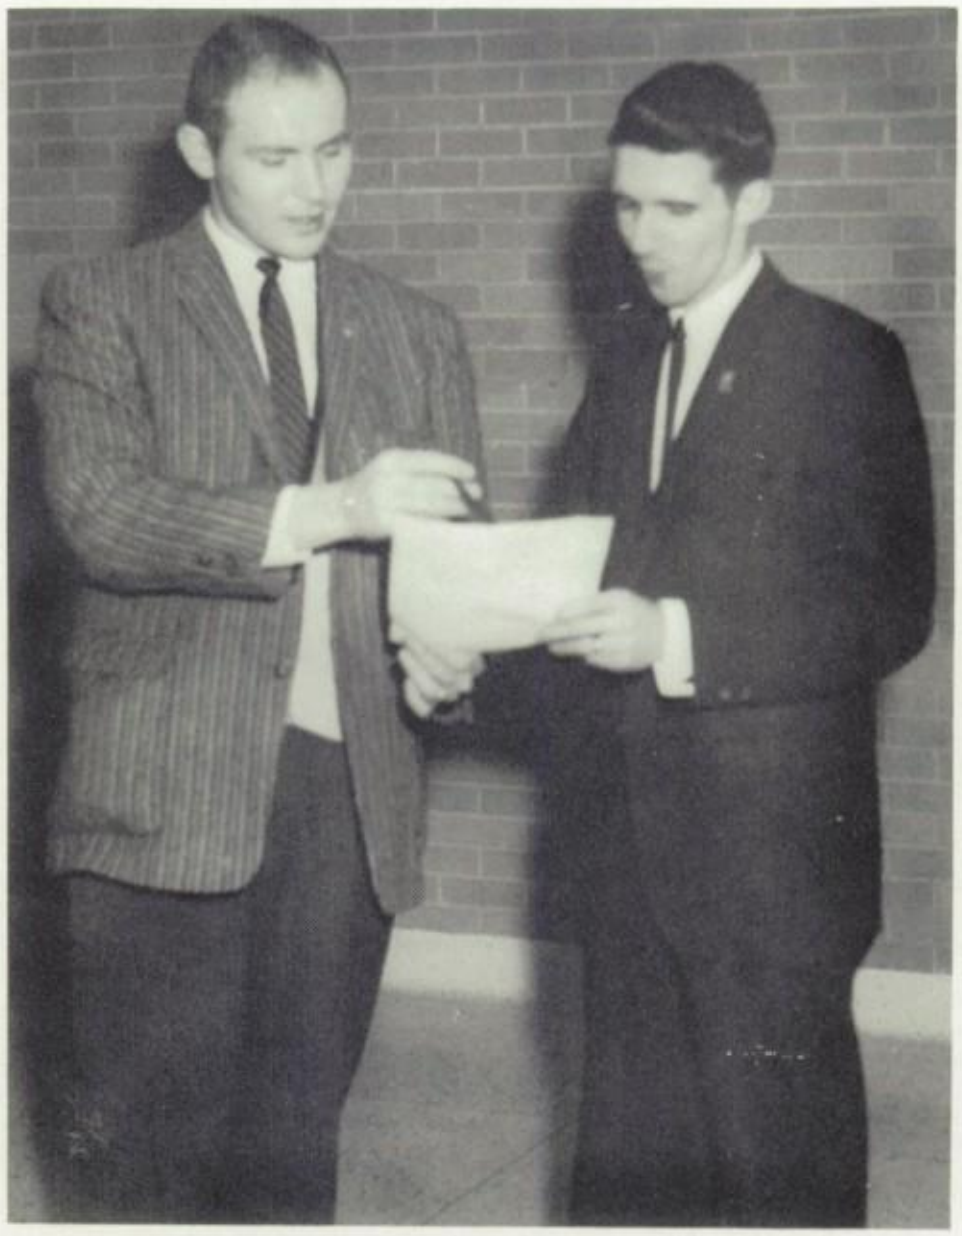
Back: Becky Berggren, Jaci Haun, Holly Hodge, Robert Koller, Kris Dittmar, Dick Herringer, Paul Martin, Jim Fullen, Gregg Chastain, Bob Reichenberg, John Fryar.

Originated in 1953, Radio-TV Production's purpose is to act as a public relations link between the high school and the community. It provides radio and television program experience for students interested in these areas of mass communication.

Students compile the total show which includes engineering, continuity, and music. This experience enables students to become better public speakers and also choose a vocation.

This year is the second in which the program has been extended to include television. This enables the students to reach more of the community and inform them as to the events that are in progress at the high school.

This year an experiment was launched in cooperation with the dramatics department. This department furnished actors for short plays that were given.



Going Over The Script for a television program are Mr. Gary Keast and Mr. B. R. Minteer who is sponsor of Radio-TV Production. Keast, director of the drama department, furnishes plays for the show.

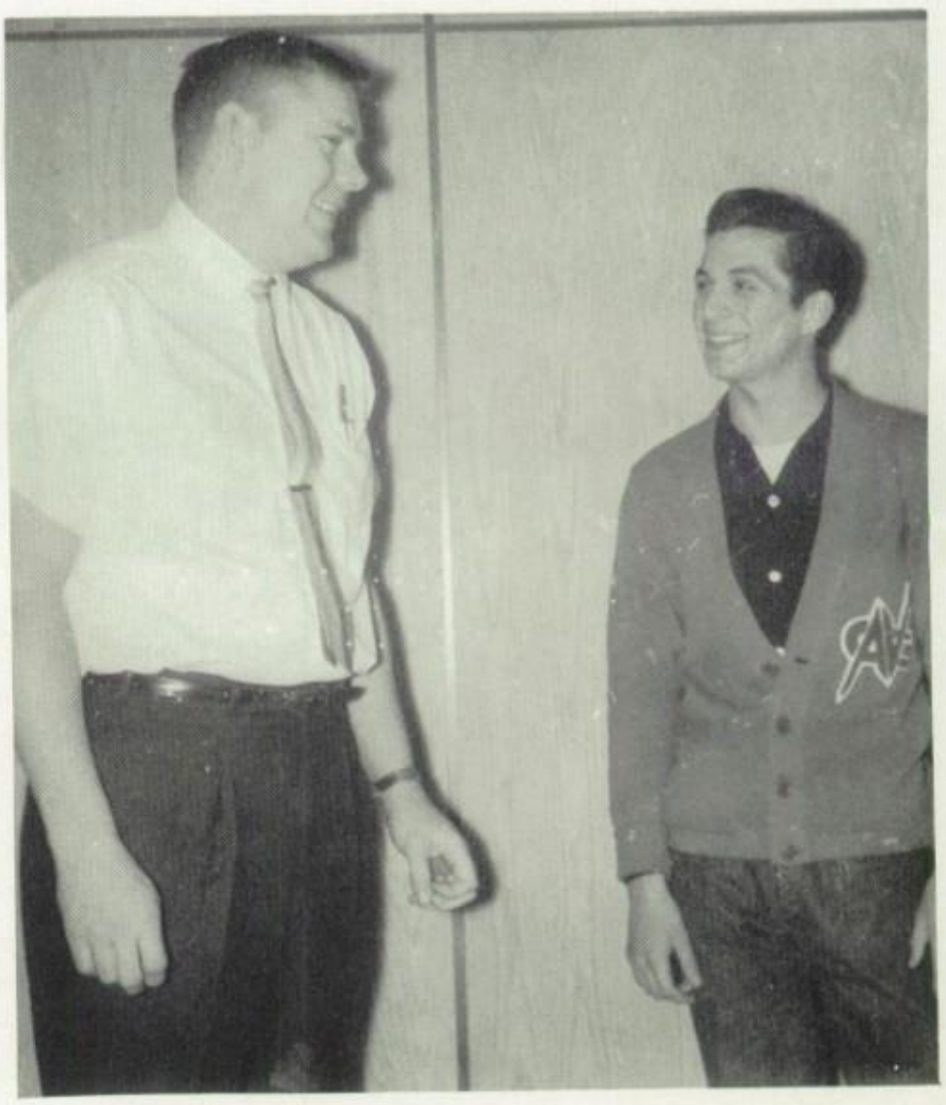
Audio Visual Operates All

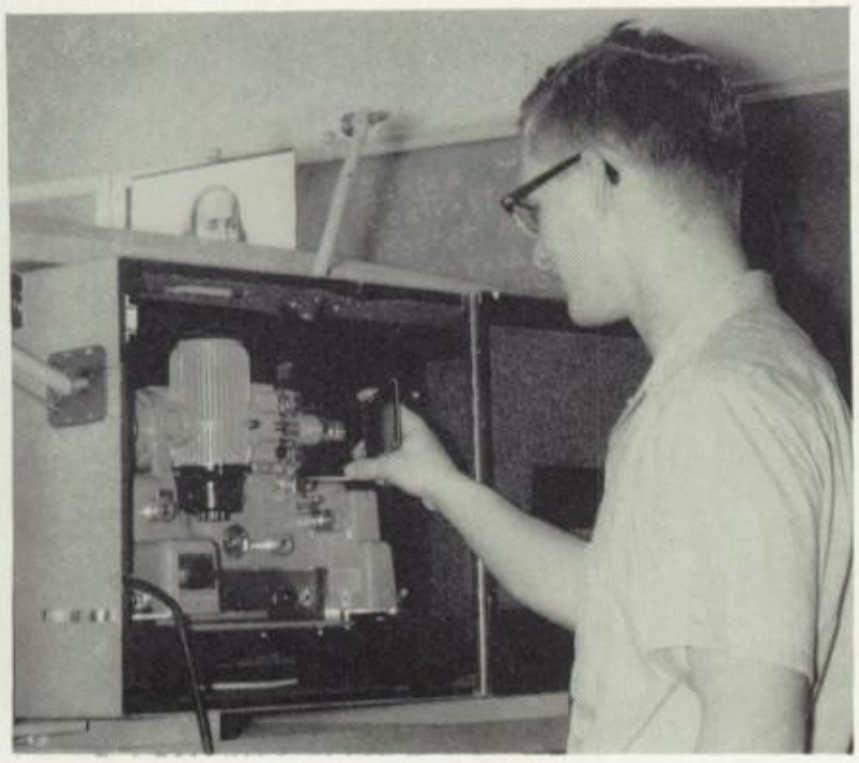
I'm very happy that I have the opportunity to work with a group of boys who spend a great deal of their time working for the good of the school system. I would like to express my appreciation to each member of the Audio Visual Club for his part in doing this job.

Very little recognition is given to these boys for the part they play in our school, but this year we have one who deserves more than a "thank you." This individual not only did what he was asked, but also looked for ways to better our school. His willingness to work was accompanied by his ability to get the job done. A person who has these qualities deserves some type of recognition. On behalf of all who had a chance to enjoy working with Richard Jack we would like to acknowledge his sincere efforts.

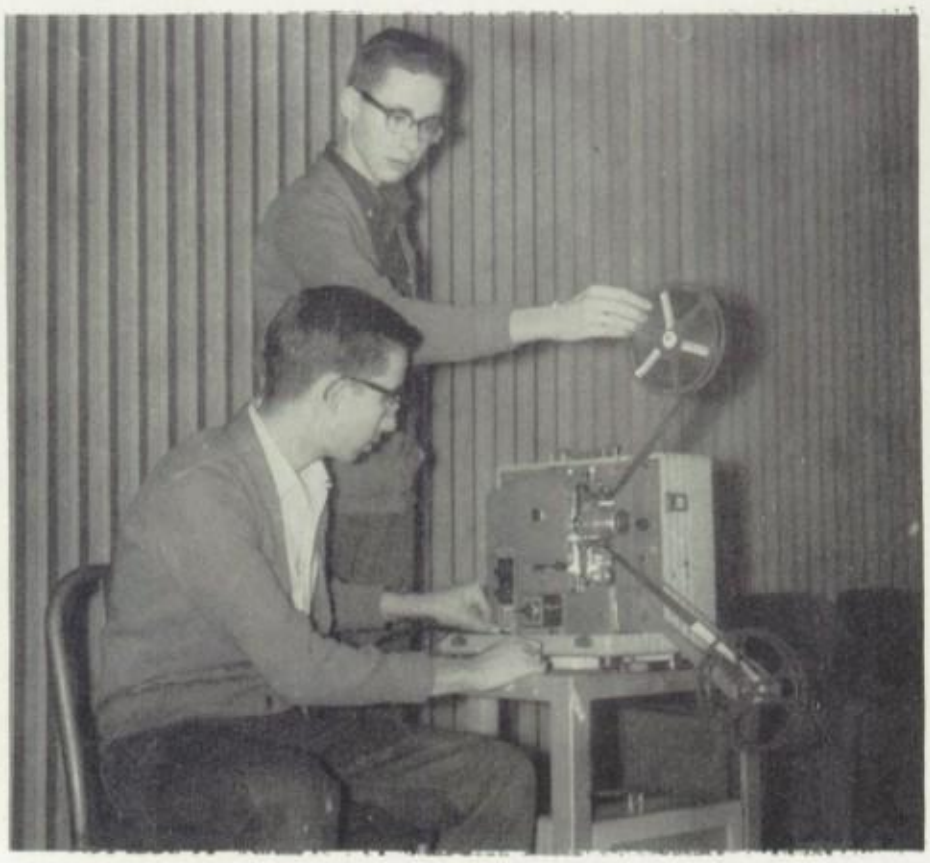
Mr. Wendell Pleis
A-V Director



Discussing The After-Game dance schedule is Gavino Saldivar, president, and Mr. Pleis, sponsor. Audio Visual also plays records at class parties and organization dances.



By Special Request, classroom films are shown by the projectionists. Operating the daylight projector is Bob Koller.

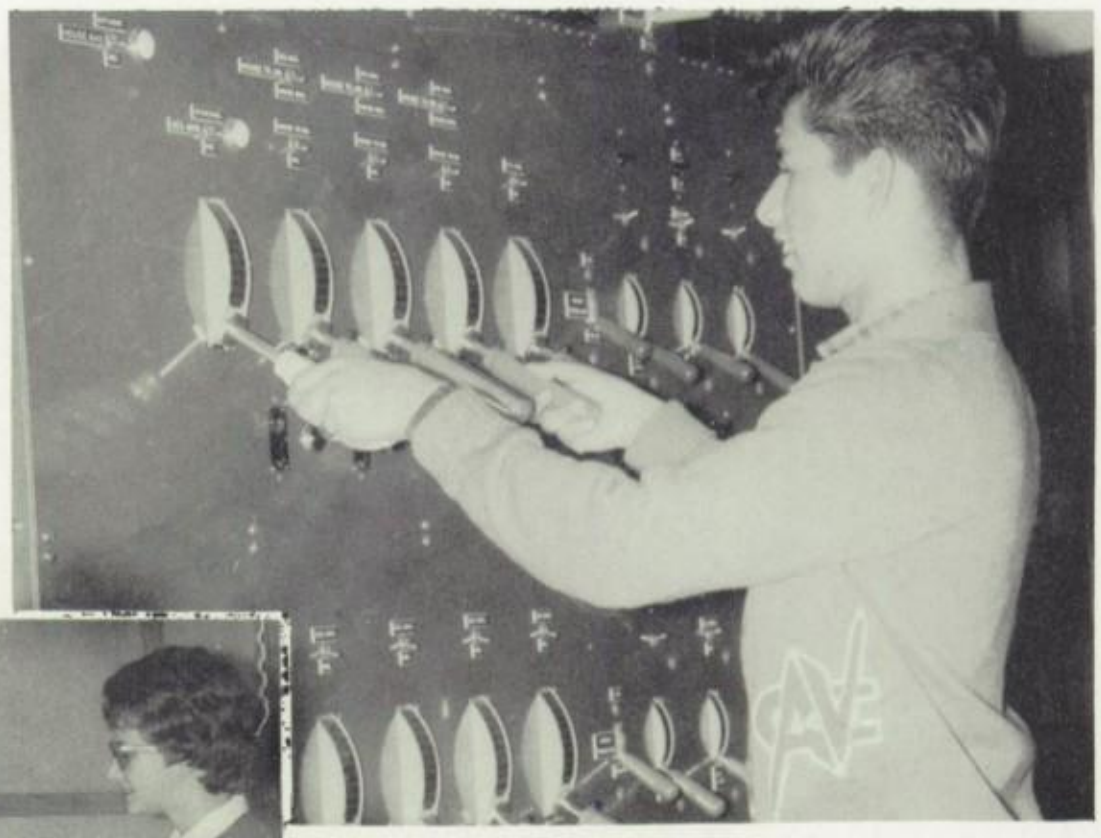


Preparing To Show a film in the lecture hall are John Wolf and Duane Freouf, who is the secretary-treasurer of Audio Visual.

Technical Equipment in Classrooms and at School Functions.

Originated as a civic organization in 1955 was the Audio Visual Club. This club assists the teachers in their classroom discussion by showing specially requested films. One of its first sponsors was Dr. Lauren Schwisow, who was responsible for starting the club.

Certain services performed by the club are playing records for dances, wiring the sound system for the cafeteria and the foul lights for the basketball games.



Adjusting The Light panel in the auditorium is Vice-President George Ferreyra. Audio Visual members operate the lights at school functions.

One Project Of Audio Visual is running the stereo during lunch and after school. Linda Enwall and Karen Lindquist ask Jim Bauer to play a record.

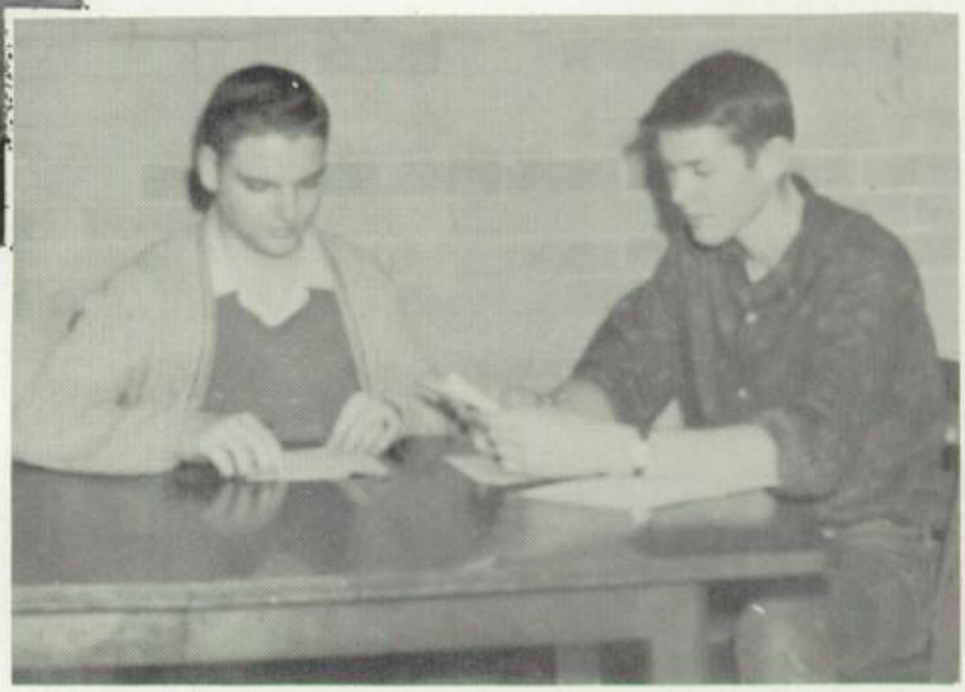
Ushers Direct Audiences at Many Civic and School Affairs.

Since the Usher Crew was organized in 1937, it has been a very valuable service organization to both the school and the community. They are not paid for their services and tips are not accepted.

Ushers provide their services for Community Concerts, Platte Valley Oratorio, choral concerts, music clinics, band concerts, operettas, class plays and talent shows in addition to Vespers, Commencement and Class Day.

This fall when the Teacher's Convention was held in the new Senior High School building, the ushers were again on hand to assist the several hundred teachers who attended the various meetings and assemblies during the convention.

Student Council representative Jim Murray and head usher Dan Talbot look over the scheduled activities for the school year at which they will usher.



Dave Broadus And Steve Cassells fold programs in preparation for a concert. Sponsor for the ushers, as in past years, was Mrs. Ethel Pflug, school librarian.

Chess Presents Challenge

In its second year, first as a school organization, Chess Club elected officers. Membership is not limited to high school students.

Members of the club are ranked on a ladder system. A player may be challenged by anyone within two ranges of him on the ladder.

Chess problems are set up by Mr. Shellenberger for each player to answer individually. The whole club then discusses the problem and decides the correct solution.

Jan Holm, AFS Foreign exchange student from Norway, and Dave Broadus show deep concentration as they decide their next move in one of the regular challenge games that are played.

Organizations

Providing extra activities for interested students is the program of an extensive variety of organizations. While some are select such as Nike and Tri-M, most are open to any student wishing to participate.

The purposes of the various organizations range from public service and educational value to supporting the school spirit and just having fun.

An assortment of activities include decorating goal posts, sports, debates, homemaking and plays. Field trips, a twirp dance, royalty; they will have these Moments To Remember.

As Head Teen Queen sponsor, Mrs. Lois Olsson is responsible for all of the functions of the club. She promoted the project of selling paperback books to the student body of SHS.

Is Major Project of Teen Queens.

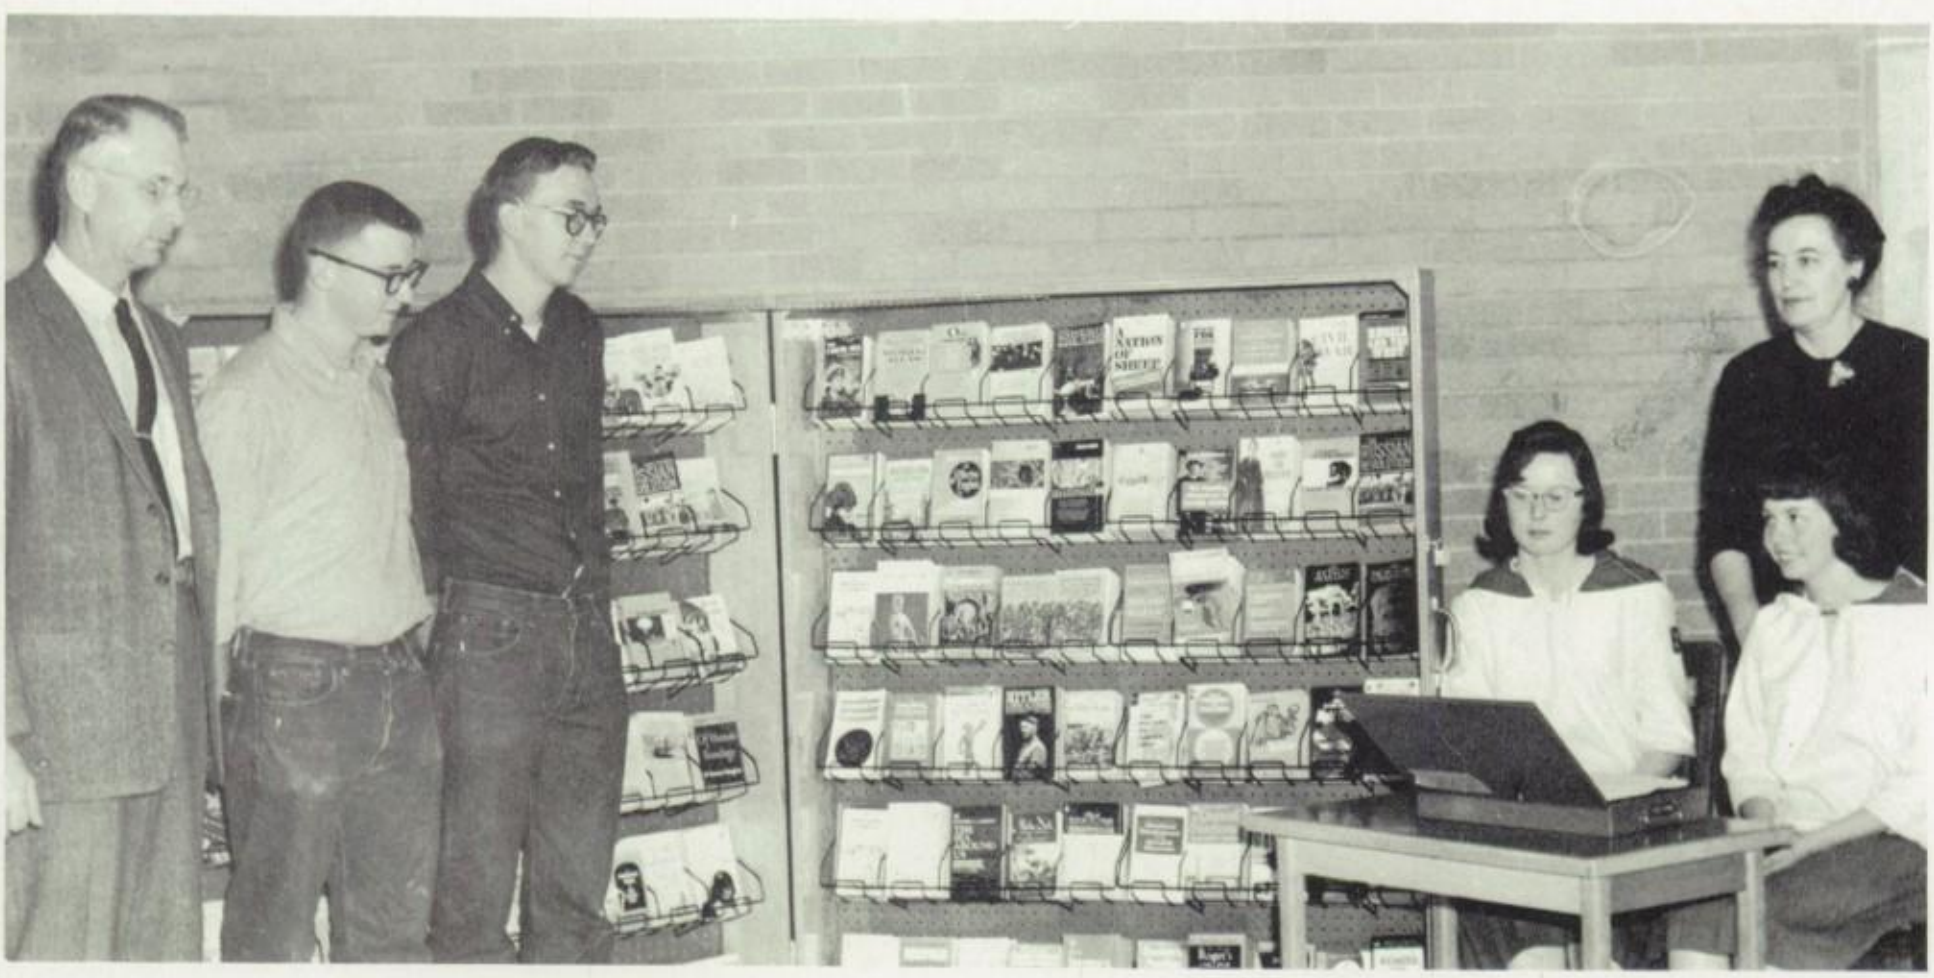
Another Teen Queens sponsor is Mrs. Jeanette Shehein. She teaches sophomore English and points to a book that she has recommended for several of her classes to read, thus promoting one of the Teen Queens projects.

Teen Queens has been an active school organization at SHS for thirteen years. The purpose of Teen Queens is to promote service, understanding and friendship among the members, school and community.

Teen Queen members offered their free time during study halls to sell paperback books to the student body.

Among the other activities of Teen Queens are the annual Holy Week services held each morning in the Lecture Hall with a different speaker each time, the Valentine's Day Tea that is held in honor of the mothers and the preparation and distribution of Thanksgiving baskets in November.

Members also assist the local Cosmopolitan Club by contributing Christmas gifts to the under-privileged children.



Standing before the new Teen Queens bookcase display are Mr. Veal, designer of the bookcase, Max Schumacher and Jack Lacy, builders, and Mrs. Olsson, Teen Queens sponsor. Ann Overstreet and Dixie Doolittle are on hand to sell the books to the student body with about 125 titles which provides an abundant variety.

"Over the Rainbow" as Theme of the Year.

Nike was organized in 1947 by the local Business and Professional Women's Club to recognize high scholastic standing among girls in their junior and senior years at Scottsbluff High.

Nike functions as a service organization. The membership is made up of twenty senior girls and fifteen junior girls with an additional five initiated towards the end of the school year.

Traditional to the club's activities is the active participation in the "secret pal" function. Each member has a secret pal to whom she surprises with witty creations and a special gift at Christmas, on her birthday or other selective occasions unaware to the pal.

This year's theme was "Over the Rainbow." Nike members proved their leadership and service as they contributed to the welfare and happiness of the school and community.

Skittens Play Active Role in Supporting

Analyzing The Skittens layout in the yearbook are Anita Dougherty, Student Council representative; Jaci Haun, under-secretary; Lynn Conklin, treasurer; Kathy Kuxhausen, secretary; Marianne Smith, president; and Carolyn Shaver, vice-president.

Skittens began the '62-'63 football season with a spirited pep rally before the game with the Rapid City Cobblers. Each Skitten played an active role in the pep rallies and in supporting the team.

Assisting S Club in building a float for the Banner Day parade kept the members busy, but their rewards were much greater. The Skittens-S Club float received third place in the judging.

Climaxing the year was the tapping of the '63-'64 cheerleaders.

Skittens meet the second and fourth Thursday of every month. Special meetings are held whenever they are considered necessary.

Senior And Junior Skittens members pause before the North Platte reserve game for the group shot. All Skittens members donned new uniforms this year in the traditional red and white. The tops are of white wool with the hood lined in red.

Team by Attending Pep Rallies and Athletic Functions

Assembling Before The North Platte reserve game are the sophomore Skittens members. Skittens used various hand motions and yells to express their school spirit. Also members purchased red and white shakers to be used during basketball season.

Enjoying The Antics of a Skittens skit is Don Wolcott, Karen Lindquist and Teri Abel. Glenda Snogren blindfolded Roger Sell, handed him a stick, and instructed him to hit the big white ball with the red S on it.

Girls Recreation Association Newly Organized

From G. R. A.

GRA held its organizational meeting September 21 at Pioneer Park. All girls interested in participating in an athletic program during the school year were encouraged to attend this meeting. The election of officers was held September 25.

Monday evenings the girls played volleyball and received one merit per hour for playing. A basketball program was started December 3; teams were organized and tournaments were played. Each Wednesday evening the girls gathered to swim at the YMCA.

Pausing Beside The trophy case for their picture are Miss Drishaus, GRA sponsor; Becky Knight, secretary; Alice Acevedo, treasurer; Patti Gahagan, Student Council representative; Jane Peshek, vice-president; and Betsy Fenimore, news reporter. Not pictured was President Georgia Hiner.

GRA Held A Style Show on the afternoon of November 16. All the mothers of the club members were invited to attend. After the girls had modeled their outfits refreshments were served to the mothers by Betsy Fenimore and Jane Peshek.

Debate Members Choose Subjects of Interest for Debate

Debate Members — Front: Bryan Boulier, Pete Hamon, Steve Martin, Dan Talbot, Bob Reichenberg and Bruce Brandt. Back: Gavino Saldivar, John Schmidt, Jon Vanderhoof, Jerry Douglas, and Thomas Dean.

Students tried for many years to organize a debate club at SHS but their efforts failed. Their goal was finally reached in 1960. At this time, the students were chosen as members on the basis of their scholastic ability and interest in debate work.

Debate is now an active club at SHS. Through this club, members are able to improve their public speaking ability and become familiar with the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure.

Members of debate gather material on various subjects of interest to them and debate on these topics with members within the club or with other clubs.

Any high school student interested in debating is eligible for membership. Debate meetings are held every Wednesday, sponsored by Mr. Shellenberger.

Looking Over The schedule of the forthcoming debates are Secretary-Treasurer Dan Talbot, President Bob Reichenberg and Vice-President Gavino Saldivar. Not present for the picture was Pete Hamon, Student Council representative. Head sponsor for Debate is Mr. Lase who supervises the group's activities.

Participation in Cadet Teaching Highlights

Leading The Discussion of the executive board of FTA is President Sandee Britthouer. Joining in the discussion are JoAnn Fegler, treasurer; JoAnn McCaffree, Student Council representative; Nanc Hoffman, secretary; and Ginny Welsch, vice-president. Plans for the next monthly meeting were discussed.

Future Teachers of America was chartered in 1958 under the leadership of Mr. Ted Tow. The purpose of this national organization is to "encourage outstanding high school students and able college students to prepare to become members of the teaching profession."

Those juniors and seniors representing the upper 50 per cent of their class or those maintaining a C+ average and above are eligible for membership. This year the FTA organization enrolled a total of 64 members.

Regular meetings are held on the first Monday of every month. To promote active participation in the club, publicity and program committees were organized to set up more interesting programs. In the spring the senior members participated in cadet teaching and both juniors and seniors attended the annual field trips.

FTA Members — Front: Sandee Britthouer, Carole Cushing, Susan Abner, Collette Bentley, Kathee Moore, Anita Dougherty, Marsha McCutchan, Elaine Schnell, Sandy Acton, Cindy Slafter, JoAnn Schanaman, Trudy Lieberman, Mary Linda Slie and Judy Peterson. Thespians is an honorary club for all SHS students interested in dramatic arts. Students must obtain 100 hours of acting experience before they are eligible for membership. These hours may also be obtained by working on play crews.

Scottsbluff Senior High School Thespians Club presented "Jenny Kissed Me," by Jean Kerr, November 29-30. This was the first all school play for the group.

Thespians meetings are held every fourth Monday in the speech room. Mr. Gary Keast has sponsored Thespians for three years.

Scottsbluff Chapter of Future Farmers

Strive to Develop

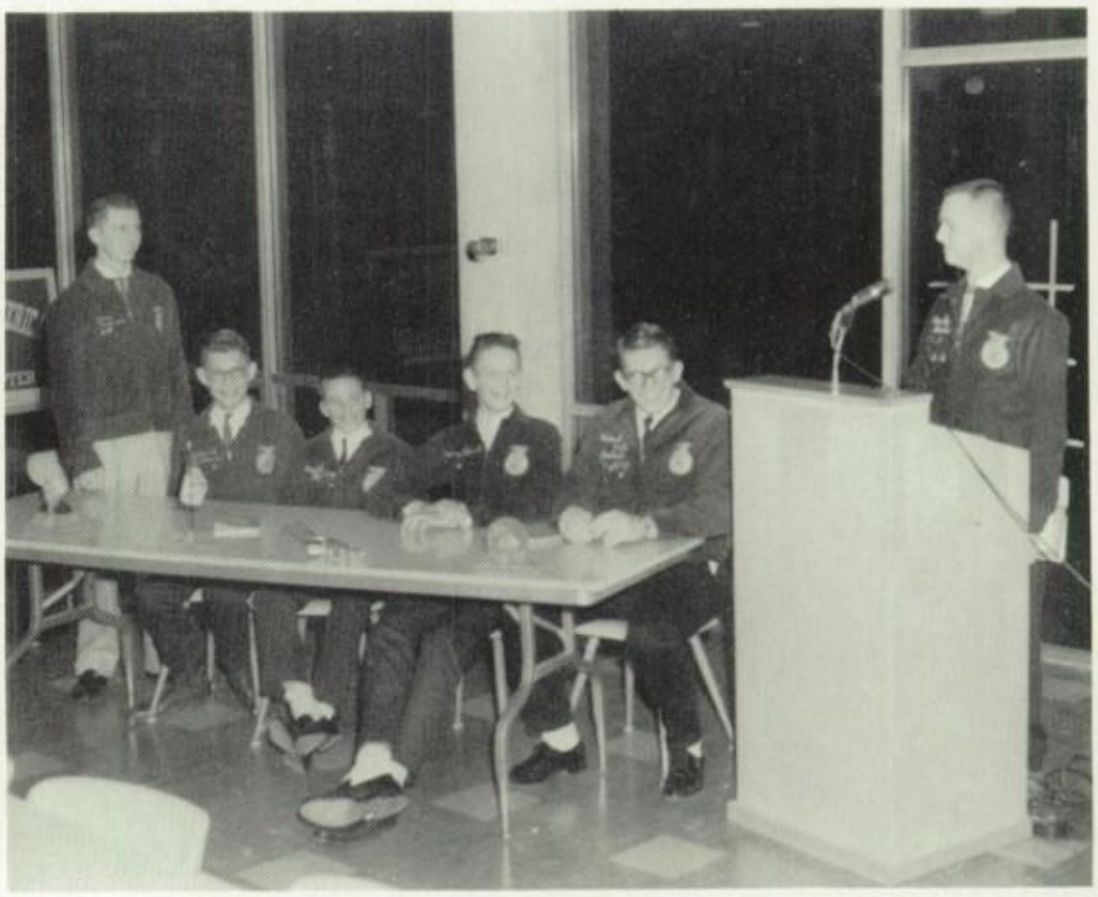
"I believe in the future of farming, with a faith not born of words, but of deeds." This is the beginning of the Future Farmers of America Creed, around which all FFA members construct their lives and plan their futures.

FFA members attended district conventions at Bridgeport, Lincoln and Mitchell, Nebraska. Each boy entered individual contests.

This organization strives to develop agricultural leadership, character, thrift and scholarship.

Each year a one-hundred-dollar scholarship is given to the outstanding senior boy who plans to further his education in college.

FFA boys must be enrolled in vocational agriculture to become eligible for membership.



Demonstrating Parliamentary procedure at the Father-Son Banquet are George Kaufman, William Walters, Paul Woolsey, Larry Schnell, Richard Kort and Randy Brown. The banquet was held to commemorate National Future Farmers of America week.

In The Absence Of President Bob Anderson, vice-president Allan Scoggan presides over executive board meetings. Forming the remainder of the board are Fritz Lawrence, secretary-treasurer and Bob Reichenberg, Student Council representative.

Head Sponsor Del Tanner listens to advice given by Hi-Y members Harley Rubottom and Bruce Seger for bettering the club and the meetings.

of Christian Leadership Among the Members.

Hi-Y is affiliated with the Northern American Hi-Y Fellowship of Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Alden King, YMCA director, is the adviser while Mr. Del Tanner serves as sponsor.

To create, maintain and extend the standards of Christian leadership among the members, the school and the community is the purpose of Hi-Y.

In preparation for the Youth and Government Program held in November at Lincoln, the Hi-Y Club attended the Pre-Legislative Conference in Alliance.

Hi-Y sponsored the first after-game dance in the new Senior High Commons. As a promotional stunt, the president volunteered to dye his hair in the traditional school colors. Other projects sponsored by this club were the raising of the flag at every home football game and also taking tickets at each freshman game.

President Bob Anderson gets the o.k. for the P.A. announcement for the regular meeting of the Hi-Y organization.

Jujitsu is the most scientific way of wrestling. An important part of judo is to get your opponent off balance by striking or clipping him below the back of the knee with your leg, throwing him back and off his guard. There are other ways of unbalancing him as Fritz Lawrence and Bob Reichenberg display. Judo training is a Hi-Y function with the local YMCA.

Kathee Moore, Tri-M president, pauses with Mr. Becker, sponsor. Other officers of Tri-M are Mary Kay Kirschman, treasurer; Susan Campbell, secretary; Larry Ingwersen, vice-president; Todd Sorensen, Student Council representative, and Jim Murray, historian. Tri-M is a scholastic music organization.

Modern Music Masters is a scholastic music organization for senior high students maintaining a B average in instrumental or vocal music and a C average in academics.

Tri-M initiates must audition and pass a written test before becoming full-fledged members. The audition is conducted by Mr. Ron Becker and Mr. Ewald Ehly, Tri-M sponsors, in the presence of the club members.

As vocal and instrumental music participants, the organization provides entertainment for any civic group at their request.

During the intermission at the local Community Concerts, the members served coffee. A self-entertaining Christmas party was given at which time the members went caroling.

Organizational meetings are held on the first Tuesday of every month.

Distributive Education Offers Business Techniques

Members of Distributive Education learn the operations of retail business through study and training by attending daily class sessions. Part-time jobs are held by the DE members to practice the techniques taught in the class sessions.

DE members invited the SHS students to visit the display window in the DE classroom.

Members of DE attended the State Convention at Lincoln in March and the National Convention in April. Each member attending entered in the field in which they thought they were best qualified.

Fund-raising projects for DE included selling schedule pens and Christmas wrapping paper.

Cold mornings, snappy music and march routines bring to mind many experiences to a band member. Although at times the extra hours of practice seemed useless, brilliant, half-time performances justified the efforts.

Choir and orchestra members also put in many hours of hard work. Christmas programs, a spring concert and many tedious operetta practices bring to mind many wonderful times.

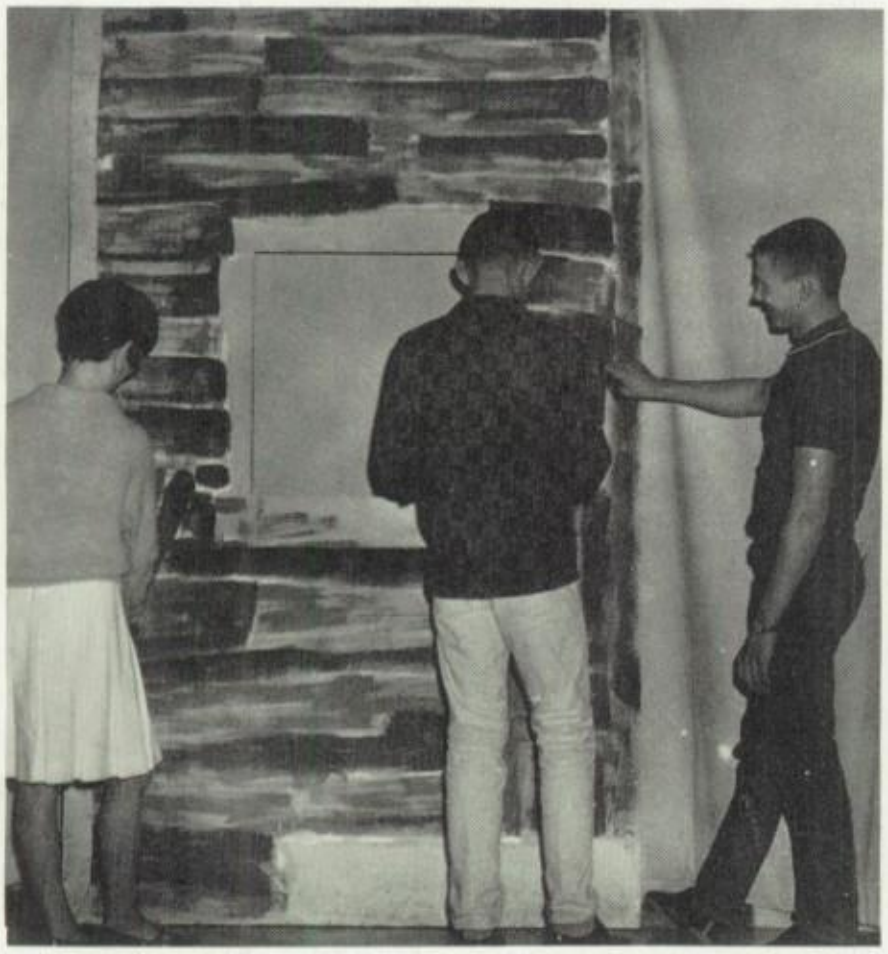
Preparation For Operetta Involves Many Hours of Work.



Anita Dougherty, Bob Brozek and Allen Jackson, members of the art crew, begin painting scenery for the operetta. Several months before the operetta, preparations begin with the drawing of the scenes on a small scale and then the actual painting begins.

Barbara Adams, head of the make-up crew for the "Music Man," practices on Mary Kay Kirschman. Members of the crew hold several meetings before the operetta to practice make-up techniques.

Appearing as the traveling salesmen in the choirs' production of "Music Man" were Jim Fullen, Gary Baker, Mike O'Shea, Ron Muhlbradt, Bob Goddard and Dale Foley. Practices were held twice a day for several weeks.

When the curtain rises on the presentation of an operetta, such as "Music Man," the performance represents many hours of hard work by both the students and the directors.

Several weeks before the actual performance, crews were organized to work on the scenery, make-up, lighting, costumes, props and publicity of "Music Man." These crews were made up of both choir members and students of SHS.

Mrs. Muehlberger's art classes worked both during class and after school on the scenery. The sets were first drawn on a small scale and were then built to actual size.

Members of the make-up crew held several meetings to practice the application of make-up. This year for the first time, costumes were ordered specially for each performer.

SHS orchestra's first activity this year was taking part in the State Music Clinic held at Norfolk, Nebraska. Six string players represented the orchestra. Many weeks were spent in preparation for the operetta, "The Music Man," which the orchestra accompanied this year.

One of the spring activities of the orchestra is to tour the Scottsbluff grade schools, giving a short concert at each one. Orchestra members also take part in the mass band concert given at the end of the school year.

Taking Second Place prize in the Bearcat Banner Day parade was the orchestra float. The floats were judged on originality, theme, artistic value and neatness.

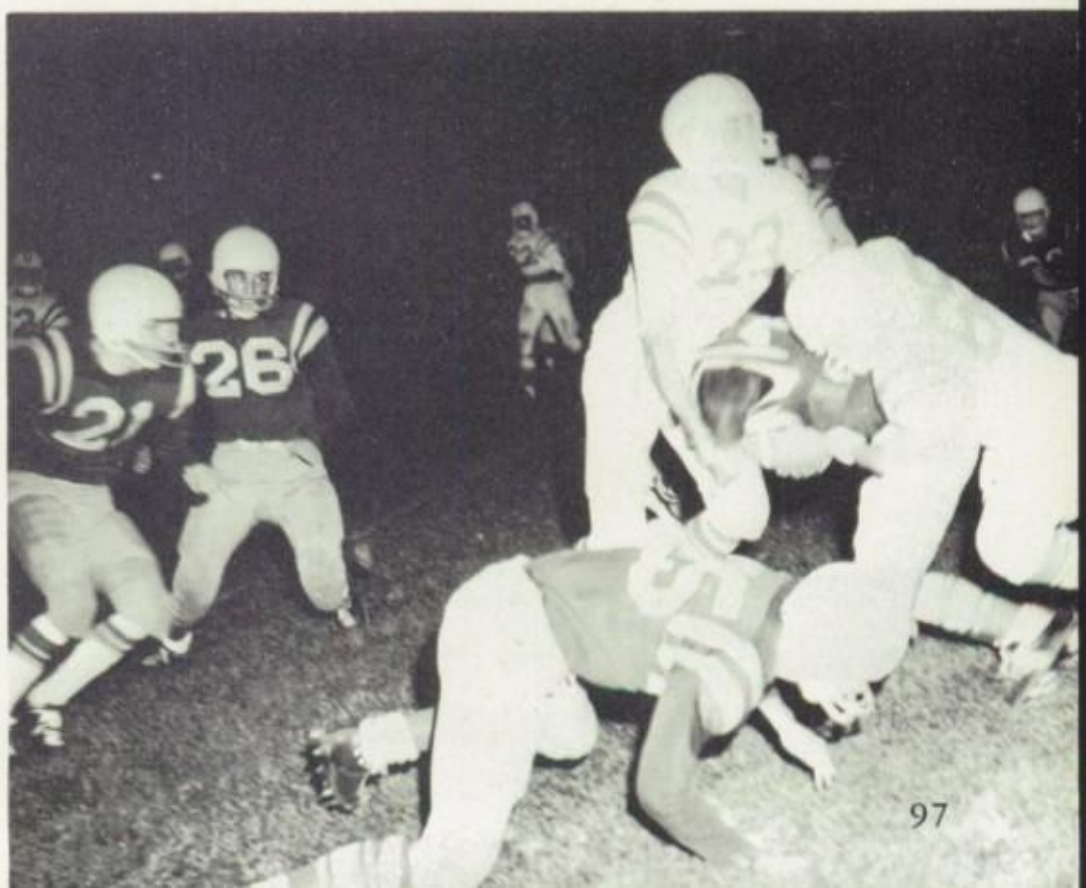
Going into the last half trailing 7-6, the Bearcats won their 1962 football opener over the Rapid City Cobblers by a score of 13-7. Doug Butler's TD capped a 68-yard drive starting with the third quarter kick-off. Trying desperately to win the game with its air attack, the Cobblers were checked by the fine defensive efforts of the Scottsbluff Bearcats, led by senior tackle Tom Popp.

Senior Quarterback Gary Neibauer (23) and Rick Stangle (65) show fine defensive action on this play as they hit a Kearney ball carrier behind the line of scrimmage.



Senior Halfback Oscar (The Horse) Barraza thunders past the Alliance defense into the end zone. Scottsbluff defeated the Bulldogs 12-6.

Living up to its clutch-finish tradition, the Bearcats routed the Sterling Tigers by a score of 12-3. Trailing 3-0 with 1:47 left in the game, Bruce Black ran the final seven yards after a 62-yard march. On the first play following the kick-off, Neibauer snagged a pass and roared 50 yards to make the score 12-3 in favor of the Bearcats. Neibauer missed his try for the conversion.

Upsetting the 'Bluff's winning streak, the Gering Bulldogs beat the 'Cats 14-12 in a real thriller. Ahead 7-6 at the half, Gering turned a seemingly sure victory for the 'Cats into defeat on a 45-yard pass play. A 37-yard run by Startzer and a five-yard run by Neibauer culminated a 56-yard march accounting for the 'Cats' TD's. Scottsbluff, ahead in the statistics, was led by Startzer's powerful running, averaging 6.7 yards a carry for 120 yards.

Scottsbluff came from behind to beat Sidney 9-6 with a well-earned victory. Don Wolcott scored his first TD of the season on a one-foot plunge after a 39-yard Bearcat drive in the last quarter. Neibauer kicked the extra point. A brilliant 70-yard punt return by Rusty Fuller, which would have meant another TD, was nullified by a penalty. The 'Cats' other two points came on a safety.

Leading at the half 7-0, Scottsbluff lost its first conference game of the season to McCook by a score of 13-7. The 'Cats' TD came on a 10-yard keeper around left-end by Neibauer after an inspiring 44-yard march in the second period. Neibauer kicked the extra point. Bogged down in heavy rain, the 'Cats were unable to check McCook's TD's in the last half.

Neibauer's spectacular 32-yard field goal on the last play of the game gave Scottsbluff a 23-20 victory over the Cheyenne Central Indians. Neibauer, the hero of the evening, ran 36 yards for a TD in the third quarter and had an amazing 151 yards total rushing for the evening. Oscar Barraza, also to be commended, ran 24 and 61 yards respectively for the other 'Cat scores.

to Rugged Gridiron Competition

By winning a 21-6 Big Ten conference game against Kearney, Scottsbluff capped a perfect Banner Day celebration. A four-yard run by Barraza and a seven-yard Neibauer-to-Nickal pass bought the 'Cats a 14-0 halftime lead. In the last period a pitchout to Doug Butler who carried for 10 yards accounted for the other TD. Two extra point kicks by Neibauer and a pass to Butler in the end zone accounted for the PAT's.

Displaying tremendous team effort against North Platte, the 'Cats were defeated and lost all hope for the Big 10 title. The Platters won 26-21, but they had a tough time against a spirited team that played its best game of the season. Paul Asmus netted two TD's, one on a six-yard plunge, and the other on a 23-yard pass from Neibauer. Besides kicking three extra points, Neibauer ran 10 yards for the other TD.

Scottsbluff closed its '62 season with a 12-6 victory over the Alliance Bulldogs, sewing up a 6-3-0 record. The Bearcats carried a 12-0 lead into the second half made possible by a TD by Barraza and a 21-yard pass from Neibauer to Cal Nickal. Barraza and Startzer paced the 'Bluff's team with 75 yards apiece. Rick Stangle's interception with 50 seconds left gave Scottsbluff possession of the ball until the closing gun.

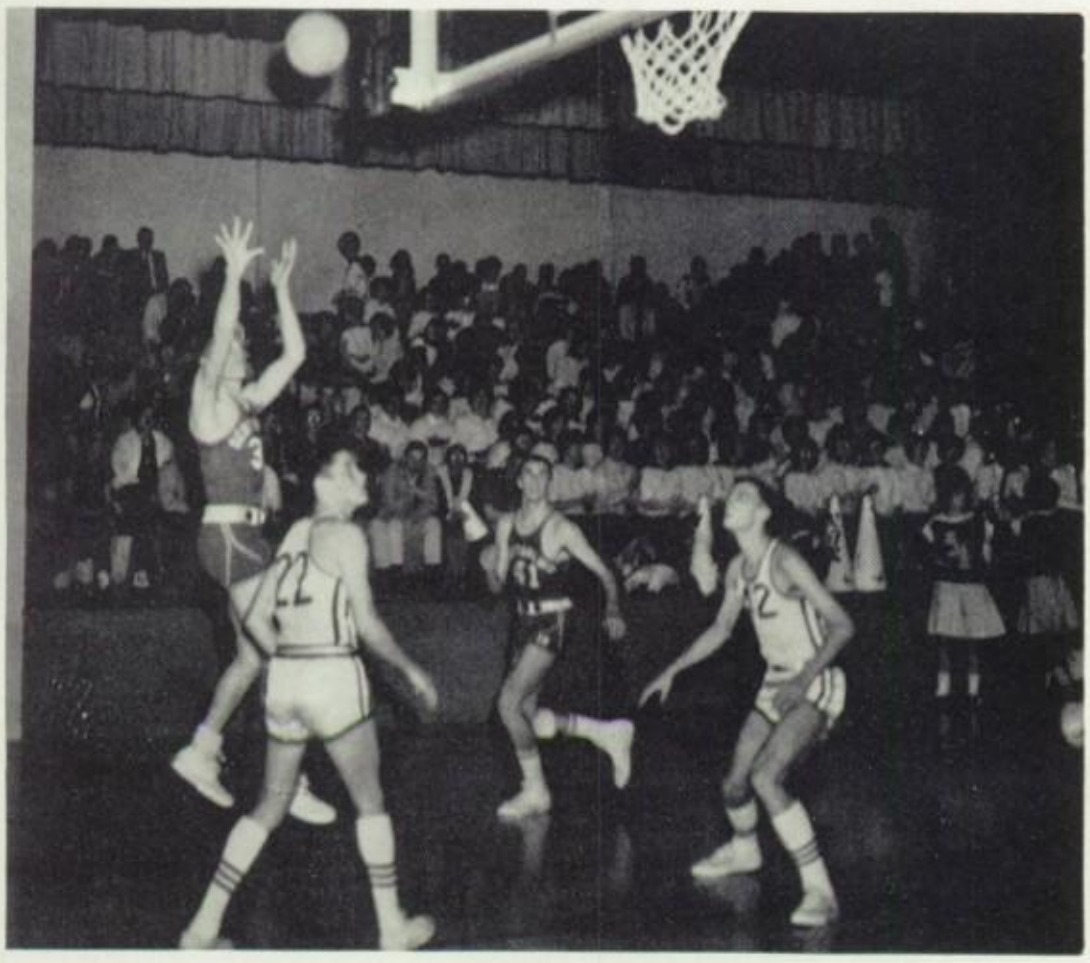
Desire, Teamwork, Rugged-Training, Pay Off; 'Cats Share Big Ten, Win District.



Coach Bill Gogan's protegees started off the '62-'63 basketball season with a bang, ending Cheyenne Central's win skein of 39 straight, and continued in like fashion the remainder of the season. Being beaten only twice in regular season competition, the 'Cats went on and captured a tie for West Big Ten honors, sharing the crown with McCook. The 'Cats moved into the finals after beating Alliance 46-40, and then took the regional title by defeating Sidney 52-45. By winning the district tournament at Alliance, Scottsbluff earned a berth in the State Class A championship in Lincoln. Scottsbluff was defeated in the opening round of competition 60-49 by Columbus. Gary Neibauer, leading scorer for the second straight year (322 points), meshed 22 points for the Bearcats, ending the season.

Ending His Third Year at the Helm With Big

Thrilling the crowd in a spectacular and decisive victory, the Bearcats opened their season with a 64-52 decision over the Cheyenne Central Indians, crumbling the latter's winning streak of 39 straight. Bill Startzer pepped the 'Cats with 17 points. In the series opener against Boys Town, the Bearcats romped the Cowboys 39-31, going ahead for keeps after breaking a 27-27 tie early in the third quarter. The next evening, the 'Cats followed up in good fashion, outscoring the Cowboys 53-43. Gary Neibauer scorched the nets with a 26-point performance. Opening the Big 10 Conference competition, the 'Cats shattered Kearney 73-52, Neibauer again netting 26. It was a decisive win prompted by outstanding team effort and brilliant ball control.

Led by Neibauer's 32 points, Scottsbluff took over sole leadership in the West Big 10 race by defeating McCook 72-50. Tied at the half 28-28, the 'Cats played rugged ball with the lead changing hands nine times and the score tied on three other occasions. The following week, Ogallala nipped the Bluffs 57-56 on a fielder by Nelson in the last three seconds of the game. Play was close during the whole game, the score being tied 10 times and changing hands 15 times, with Neibauer tallying 20 points. By scoring a victory over Kearney (55-45), Scottsbluff put another Big 10 game under their belts with Neibauer and Jack Ehler sharing scoring honors with 15 points apiece. Chuck Hohnstein, junior king-pen, popped in a basket with 56 seconds left in the game to put Scottsbluff in the lead, enabling a win of 62-57 over North Platte, Neibauer again the leading scorer, netting 16 points, followed by Hohnstein's 14. Showing tremendous team effort, Scottsbluff trounced the Alliance Bulldogs 66-53. Bill Startzer, Bearcat junior, meshed 17 points, followed by Neibauer with 11 after he was sidelined with an injury.

Scoring their first triumph over Gering since 1961, Scottsbluff broke Gering's win skein by defeating them 46-40. Midway in the second period, Roger Sell and Gary Neibauer led a six-point spurt putting them ahead by their biggest margin 23-13.

Displaying outstanding team play, the Bearcats made six straight wins in divisional play by defeating North Platte 72-67. Neibauer's prevous injury seemed to have no ill effects, for the rangy senior led all scorers with 33 points and grabbed 17 rebounds, his best performance so far in the season. Startzer sewed up the game with a basket in the last eight seconds. Scottsbluff assured themselves of a tie for the West Big 10 title by clawing Alliance 71-59. The 'Cats, using their fast break and man-for-man defense, left Alliance standing cold, with four Bearcats hitting in double figures — Neibauer (23), Startzer (16), Hohnstein (15) and Ehler (14).

After a slow start which found the Bearcats trailing 6-0 in the opening 1:25, the Big Red battled back, outshooting Sidney 65-56. It was win number 12 in 13 starts for the season. Neibauer showed the way with a 21-point performance and dominated the boards with 11 rebounds. Taking revenge for their loss to Scottsbluff earlier in the season, the McCook Bison gored the 'Cats 65-43 with an impressive win. The point spread was exactly the same with Scottsbluff winning earlier, 72-50. By winning, McCook stayed in the Big 10 race, tieing Scottsbluff for first place honors.

Fireball guard Jack Ehler teamed up with Don Wolcott to pace a 45-41 victory over Cheyenne East, hitting 20 and nine points respectively for the Big Red. Scottsbluff took advantage of Cheyenne's fouling, hitting 9 of 15 at the line to East's one of three.

Ending the regular season for both teams, Scottsbluff scored an impressive win over Gering, 74-65. Ehler blistered the nets with 21 points to lead all scorers for the evening. Scottsbluff once again employed their fast break-and-shuffle pattern offense with fine results, closing regular season competition with a 14-2 record, one of the best in Big Red history.

Bill Startzer (32) is fouled as he drives in hard for a basket.

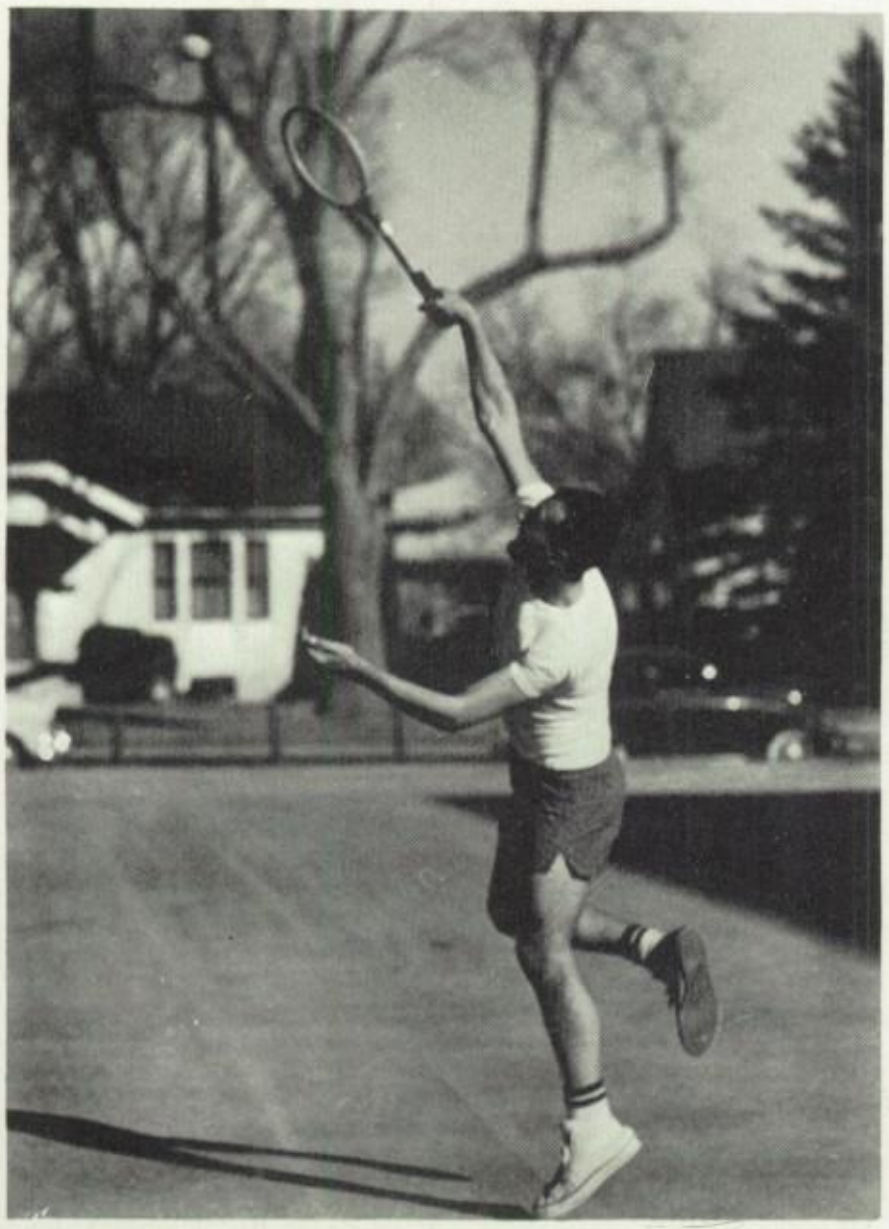
Bluff Netmen Victorious During Fall Season.



Opening the fall tennis season against Sterling, Colorado, Scottsbluff netmen won three of the five singles and swept the doubles to win by a score of 5-2. Ed Lockwood, Mike O'Shea and Larry Ingwersen were individual winners, with Rusty Fuller and Greg Rodriquez, Dick Reiser and Ed Lockwood winning doubles honors. The next match with Sterling found Scottsbluff being edged out 4-3, their only loss of the season. Reiser, Lockwood, O'Shea and Steve Cassells each won singles matches against Cheyenne East, with Fuller and Rodriquez pairing up and winning the doubles, making the final score 6-1 in favor of the Bluff netmen. Continuing with their winning skein, Scottsbluff swept the singles and doubles, shutting out Cheyenne Central by a score of 7-0. The last two matches of the season brought wins of 4-3 over Cheyenne East, and 6-1 over Cheyenne Central, rounding out the season with a 5-1 won-lost record.

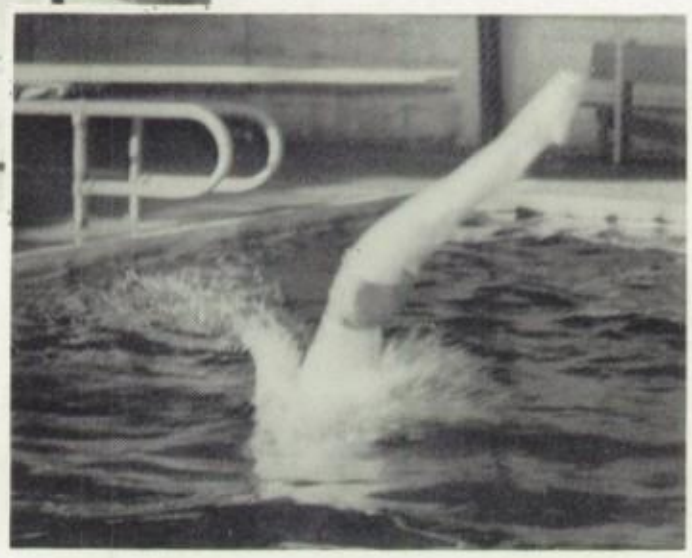
"Seacats" Splash into Second Season.

Sophomore Diver Jim Halfpenny shows good form off the board as he does a one-and-a-half.



Split-Second Timing is essential in this precision dive. The camera catches Jim just as he is breaking water.

Finishing with a record of one win and two losses for the regular season, the Seacats ended their second season of competition.

The first meet of the year was dominated by Casper who scored 81 points, putting Scottsbluff in third place. The Bluff's second meet with Laramie and University Prep saw Scottsbluff take the lead by scoring 67 points against second-best Laramie (58) and University Prep (29). Winning seven first places and several seconds, the team displayed fine effort with Cork Conner winning the 200-yard medley and Mike Haver, a double winner in the 400-yard and 200-yard freestyle. Sophomore Jim Halfpenny placed second in the diving competition.

The Seacats placed fourth in their third meet which found Cheyenne East overpowering them 80-40 while Scottsbluff took honors over University Prep and Laramie.

Cross-Country Harriers Post Phenomenal

Showing tremendous individual and team strength, the 'Cat cross-country team ended up their 1962 season with a phenomenal record of 22 wins out of 23 starts over a three-year span.

Opening the season with Rapid City and Alliance at the Scottsbluff Country Club course, Allen Russell, junior kingpin, won individual honors by turning in an 8:59 clocking followed closely by teammate Joe Perez in 9:06. The Bearcat team scored 16 points (low score wins) to runner-up Alliance (29) and Rapid City (41).

By winning the Sidney Invitational, the 'Cat runners marked their 18th consecutive win; Allen Russell capping individual honors with a 10:22.6, just three seconds ahead of Alliance's Kamerzell. Battling against a strong wind, the Scottsbluff harriers over-powered teams from Sterling and Greeley. The 'Cats scored 12 points to runner-up Greeley's 37 with Russell matching his '61 record.

Three - Year Record, Perez Wins Big Ten.

Making it 20 straight, Bearcat runners edged Alliance 18-28 at the Scottsbluff Country Club, with Russell and Perez running neck and neck until the finish with Russell winning by 10 seconds. Scoring five of the first eight places over a rugged two-mile course at Laramie enabled the 'Cat team to tally its 21st win. Russell, the star of the afternoon, toured the course in 11:16, followed by teammates Joe Perez and Bernie Acevedo.

Setting a meet record of 10:02.4 at the Kearney Invitational, Russell nosed out Hendrickson of Kearney in a close finish. The following week on the same course, Joe Perez snapped Russell's winning streak of 16 by being the first runner in history to crack the 10-minute mark on that course. Joe paced the course in 9:59.2, bettering the 10:15 record set by Tiger Henry of Scottsbluff in 1960. The tremendous performance displayed by Perez was not enough, for a strong Alliance team nosed out the Bluff's runners 30-33. 1961 state champion Allen Russell and 1960 champ Joe Perez placed fourth and sixth respectively in the state meet in Lincoln with Acevedo and Herman Perez rounding out the scoring 44 to Alliance's 38.

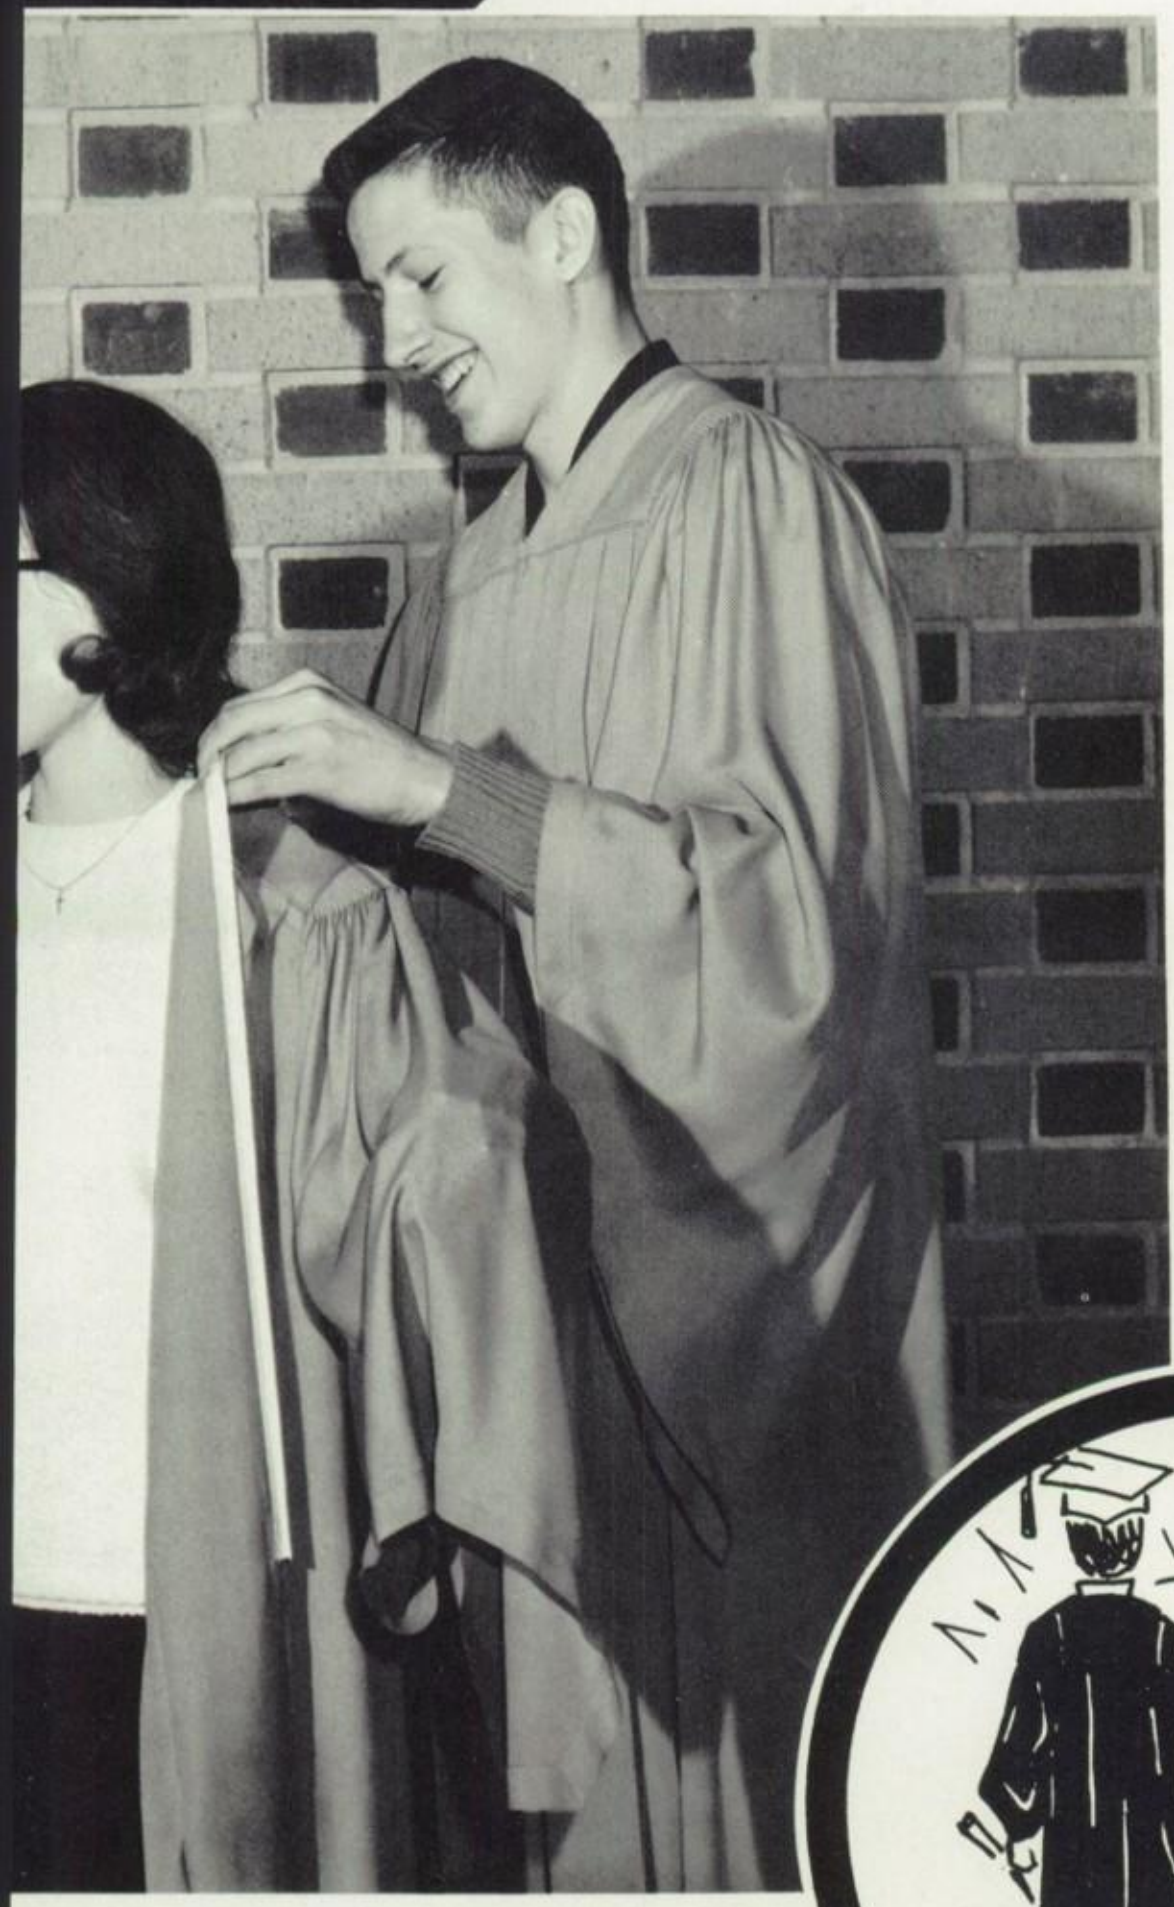
Allen Russell, Junior cross-country ace, gives it all he has as he approaches the finish in Lincoln. Russell won 16 consecutive races before being toppled by teammate Joe Perez.

Starting for the first time this year in cross-country was the novice division. This team was made up of boys who did not hold one of the five top places on the varsity squad. This division competed in all local meets and made trips to Alliance, Cheyenne and Gering. Larry Couch, promising Scottsbluff freshman, was a mainstay in this group placing first in several meets. The novice division provides experience and rough competition for those boys who normally would not get to compete. This system will assure strong teams in years to come.

A great deal of recognition should be awarded the local harriers for their fine team performance and individual accomplishments. Coach Wayne Binfield has worked very hard with the boys, and it is only through rugged, consistent training that any athletic team can attain such a fine record.



Seniors

For the seniors of SHS, this year has meant doing everything for the last time. Each day at school, each football game, each after-game dance brought the sunset on this year a little closer.

Treasured memories are as numerous as individuals in the class. For some are sports, for others organizations, and yet others have personal goals to remember. Finals, Banner Day, working on floats, the prom, attending meetings, out-of-town trips, graduation, as-they-part ways; they will have these Moments To Remember.

Officers, Sponsors Lead

Senior Council — Front: Lynn Conklin, Karen Lindquist, Anita Dougherty, Gary Neibauer and Mike Kent. Back: Gordon Specht, Doyle Yarnell, Gene Schwarzkopf, Rick Stangle and Jack Ehler. The council helps to promote fund-raising projects for the class.

1963 was an active year for all members of the Senior Class. Besides taking the required courses of social problems, American government and English, many seniors met the challenge of such subjects as physiology, chemistry, physics and trigonometry. Senior Class officers for the year were President Vern Kramer, Vice-President Nancy Hall, Secretary Marlane Johns and Treasurer Mike Kent. Mr. Frakes and Mr. Mihans served as sponsors for the class.

Examining The Financial status of the Senior Class are Treasurer Mike Kent and Secretary Marlane Johns.

Senior Class President Vern Kramer and Vice-President Nanc Hall lead the Class of '63 through the year's activities with the aid of the other officers, sponsors and council.

Seniors Through Final Year.

Senior Class Sponsors, Mr. Frakes and Mr. Mihane, carefully examine the class records before granting final approval for any class fund-raising project.

On becoming sophomores, we began to take a more active interest in the activities of our school. Knowledge and confidence were gained by all as the year progressed.

As juniors, we anxiously awaited the arrival of our class rings. We sold at the concession stands at the games to earn money for the prom and banquet. "Moon River" was our theme and we carried it out in a southern style.

In September of 1962, we entered school once again, knowing that, as seniors, it would be our last year at SHS. We worked and studied even harder as we realized that this was our final and most important year.

Underclass

For the juniors, this year has been a memorable one. All differences were put aside and the members worked together to finance the Junior-Senior Prom. Adding to the excitement was Junior Council and County Government Day.

The sophomores took a big step as they advanced into the Senior High School. Various activities, goals and ideals were presented to them as a challenge for the coming years.

New experiences, selling at the games, parties, dates, a class ring, studies; they will have these Moments To Remember.

Concessions From Games

Help Provide Money for Prom.

Enjoying A Snack from the concession stand at the East stadium is Jack Thorpe. Ann Foley and Susanne Schmidt are two of the juniors selling.

Now that this school year is over the juniors anxiously look forward to their big year as seniors, but as they review their junior year they will recall many good times.

Selling at the home football and basketball games gave them an opportunity to obtain money for the Junior-Senior Prom. For those who were interested, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test was given in October. On County Government Day, selected juniors visited the County Court House in Gering.

Speech and American history are required courses for juniors. Speech is a semester in length and is alternated with American literature. More varied subjects are found complementing the juniors' curriculum as they branch out in their selected course of study, general or college preparatory.

Many happenings will not be forgotten as juniors remember the joys that were shared in the Commons, at parties, in classrooms, at the games and during other class activities.

As juniors march into the senior section on Class Day, satisfaction of completing another year is viewed upon their faces. Another year is gone. Now they are seniors and ready for their final year.

President Connie Rystrom instructs the officers concerning the coming events. They are — Jeanne White and Linda Becker, Student Council representatives; Kathie Walker, secretary; Sue Herringer, treasurer; Mike Darnell and Dick Padberg, Student Council representatives; and Stan Johns, vice-president.

Having 343 members, the Sophomore Class is expected to be the largest class to graduate from SHS.

This is their first year in the Senior High School; their first year to participate actively in organizations and activities.

Sophomores are required to take social studies or two years of foreign language, English, physical education and driver's training. Whether the course they are taking is college preparatory or general, they can choose their preferred subjects to complete their school curriculum.

Part of their governing body, the Sophomore Council, was newly added this year. Representatives were chosen from their respective English classes. They serve with the class officers by promoting projects for the support and entertainment of the class.

As part of their social growth, parties were scheduled once every semester. Everyone shared the spotlight at the party by displaying their own renditions of the latest dance sensations: the twist, mash potato, the stomp, and the u.t.

"We Will Have These Moments to Remember."

It is strange sometimes, how things seem to come to an end, and we feel that there will be no more; nothing else could be more deep-seated in our memory. Yet, there is tomorrow, and the promise which it holds. We find that each activity, each course, each memorable event leads to, or is replaced by, something more interesting, something more challenging. It is true with this school year, 1962-'63, for each senior will go on to further realms of education or business, wherever his star might lead him. Each junior will look forward to continuing and building traditions which will be remembered of the Senior Class of '64. And there will be eager new sophomores entering in the fall filled with a spirit of adventure and exploration in this world of high school and education.

While the BLUFF staff could not possibly touch the many personal treasures of memories held by each student, either through pictures or copy, we have presented the year at Scottsbluff Senior High with the idea that each page, each picture and copy block will stir your mind with recollections of the past. Perhaps, in the years ahead, when you pick up the '63 BLUFF, you will find within its pages many . . .

. . . . Moments to Remember

Many thanks are extended to Bill Madden of the Scottsbluff Star-Herald for sports assistance, Downey's Midwest Studio, Ken's Studio, the Star Herald and Roger Frank for photographic aid and Hank Roehrich of Inter-Collegiate Press for his invaluable assistance in publishing this book.

Special thanks go to Mr. Leo Stangle for his cooperation in scheduling pictures, the sponsors and officers of the organizations, the faculty and administration and the student body of SHS.

Now the last layout is drawn, the last picture is printed, the noise of the typewriters has died and the lights in C-104 burn no longer.

Another year, another yearbook is finished. We of the '63 BLUFF staff commend this book to you, the reader.
